Egypt Ambassador Held; PLO Wants End To Pact

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Palestinian guerrillas occupied the Egyptian Embassy and the Arab League office in Madrid today and demanded that Egypt denounce its new Sinai agreement with Israel, local news agencies reported.

The guerrillas were reported holding Egyptian Ambassador Abdel Gafar, his press attache and a consul hostage in the embassy, and the Egyptian representative of the Arab League office, Abdel Rahman al Tuhani, in his office.

A report from the Spanish news agency Cifra said one guerrilla seized control of the embassy, but other sources said five or six men took over the building.

They were reported to have given the Egyptian government until midnight to comply with their demand. They also were reported threatening to blow up the embassy if the police tried to enter it.

There was no immediate report of how many guerrillas were in the Arab League office.

There was speculation that the guerrillas were students at the University of Madrid, where more than 500 Arabs are reported studying.

The Palestine Liberation Organization, as well as more radical Palestinian groups, have bitterly opposed the recent agreement which U.S. Secretary of State Henry A.

Kissinger negotiated between President Anwar Sadat of Egypt and Israel because Sadat did not force Israel to recognize the Palestinians' right to a state of their own on the west bank of the Jordan River.

On Sunday night the Egyptian People's Assembly called on Sadat to break relation with the PLO and also end the 15-year-old friendship treaty between the Soviet Union and Egypt because of Soviet criticism of the Israeli-Egyptian pact.

Lebanon Fighting Continues To Rage; 20 More Said Slain

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Palestinian mediation averted a potentially explosive antigovernment strike planned by leftist Moslems today, but Christian-Moslem fighting spread to Beirut.

At least 20 more persons were reported killed in machine-gun battles Saturday night and Sunday in the northern city of Tripoli, the hills around it and several Beirut suburbs. This increased the casualty toll since Sept. 3 to nearly 150 killed and twice that many wounded.

Moslem leftists had called a nationwide general strike to protest the use of the army as a buffer force between warring Christians and Moslems in northern Lebanon. Premier Rashid Karami, a Moslem, asked Palestinian guerrilla chief Yasir Arafat to intercede with the leftists, and he arranged a meeting between Karami and Socialist bloc leader Kamal Jumblatt.

Jumblatt agreed to call off the strike "to avoid having the fighting move to Beirut." Karami said he had established a new dialogue with the left which would pave the way to "national reconciliation." Palestinian guerrillas of the Syrian-backed Saiga group passed the word that any shopkeeper who did not open faced guerrilla reprisals, and most Beirut shops were open today.

However, fighting broke out Sunday in four suburbs of Beirut, and witnesses said Palestinian guerrillas were among the Moslem forces battling Christian militiamen of the conservative Phalangist party. Seven persons were reported killed.

Army troops near Tripoli opened fire for the first time since they established buffer zones last week between the warring Christians and Moslems.

The troops clashed with militiamen of the leftist, predominantly Moslem Oct. 24 Movement who police said blew up buildings and cabanas at a Christian beach owned by a member of President Suleiman Franjeh's family and then threatened to kill Christian workers at a nearby cement factory.

A communique said the clash occurred as the militiamen were on their way back to Tripoli. Twelve of the leftists were killed and one was wounded, but there were no army casualties, the communique said.

Fighting began Sept. 3 between Christians from Zagharta and Moslems from Tripoli. It escalated on Sept. 7 into mortar battles, machine-gun raids by both sides and murders of kidnaped persons.

Grain Sale Suspension Fought

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major farm organization, saying President Ford disregarded the farmer's interest in suspending grain sales to the Soviet Union, is trying to get the President to end the suspension.

William J. Kuhfuss, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, was scheduled to meet with Ford today. Federation leaders last week angrily accused Ford of "capitulation to political blackmail" when he announced that no further sales would be made before mid-October.

Kuhfuss, reached by telephone Sunday at his farm near Mackinaw, Ill., said, "farmers are real disturbed" over Ford's actions on the grain issue. They are angry over Ford's exclusion of them in his dealings with AFL-CIO President George Meany and other labor leaders as well as over the administration's talks with the Russians, he said.

"Capitulation to labor is what it amounted to," Kuhfuss said of Ford's suspension of the grain sales. "As we view it, these are political activities going here with the election coming on next year."

Many and maritime union officials had vowed to boycott loading of grain ships bound for Russia unless the administration could assure that the sales would not hurt American consumers.

Harrison Man Dies

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Wendell Swearingen, 22, of Harrison died Saturday of injuries suffered in a Sept. 1 traffic accident, the Hamilton County Sheriff's Patrol reported.

The gunman, who was not immediately identified, was shot as he emerged from a Continental Airlines 727 passenger jet with a hostage in front of him and pointed a handgun at one of 25 police officers around the plane, police Sgt. Michael Van Dyke said.

The gunman had forced two Continental maintenance mechanics to start the engines of the unoccupied plane earlier, but police had shot out the tires as the jetliner moved down the runway, Van Dyke said at a news conference.

As the plane began moving, the doctor, who had been taken hostage at a hospital shortly before midnight, appeared at the door. A shot rang out, and the doctor tumbled down steps attached to the plane. He was critically wounded but crawled to safety, Van Dyke said.

The doctor was identified as Frank L. Wiefels, a radiologist.

He was taken hostage at a hospital after the gunman kidnaped the driver of a car which he commandeered at a small grocery store, Van Dyke said.

The gunman had fled to the store, which he tried to hold up, from the scene of a rape in which a woman was stabbed in the chest, Van Dyke said.

He went to the San Jose Hospital and

Health Center from the store, took Wiefels hostage, and headed for the Reid-Hillview Airport with the two hostages in an auto, Van Dyke said.

At the Reid-Hillview Airport, the gunman took a security guard hostage, switched to a Santa Clara County vehicle and took it and his three hostages to the main terminal of the San Jose Municipal Airport, 20 miles away, Van Dyke said.

He escorted the hostages into the main lobby, where he took the two Continental mechanics as hostages, Van Dyke said.

The gunman and the other hostages were not identified.

The rape victim was identified as Irene Rosas, 28, of San Jose. She was hospitalized with a stab wound in the chest.

Wiefels underwent surgery at the San Jose Hospital and Health Center. The series of events began about 11:30 p.m. and ended with the gunman's death about 1:30 a.m.

After police shot out the Continental jetliner's tires, the plane came to a halt on the runway, its engines still running.

Police Lt. William Mallet began negotiating with the gunman over a radio from the control tower to the plane's cabin.

Solons May Let Prices Spurt

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is growing sentiment among congressional Democrats to end oil-price controls just long enough to give Americans a taste of higher fuel prices.

Then, the Democrats' theory goes, consumers would set up a clamor, controls would be restored despite President Ford's objections, and Ford would have suffered a stinging defeat.

It is doubtful the battle between Ford and Congress over energy policy will end that way, but chances for such a turn will be improved this week unless House and Senate Democrats resolve their differences over terms of a brief extension of controls.

Both houses of Congress will devote virtually all their efforts this week to energy legislation. Because of the Yom Kippur holiday, the House planned no action today or Tuesday. The Senate scheduled a meeting for today but scheduled no votes.

The House has cleared its calendar for the last three days of the week to resume work on a broad energy-conservation bill that also includes new oil-pricing provisions objected to by the White House.

Leaders of both houses will be involved in behind-the-scenes negotiations trying to work out an extension of 60 days or so in the oil-price controls that expired Aug. 31.

Ford wants to end price controls in the hope that higher prices for gasoline and other fuels will force conservation, give the oil industry more money to find more energy and reduce U.S. reliance on foreign oil.

His Democratic opponents fear the effects higher fuel prices would have on unemployment and recession. They say the Ford plan would raise gasoline prices by 10 to 12 cents a gallon, compared with the White House estimate of 3 cents.

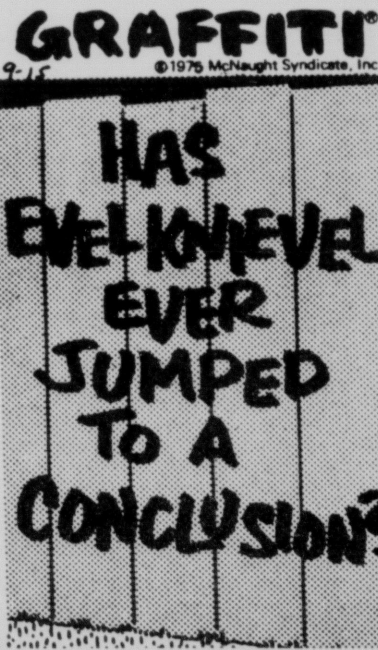

The President vetoed the Democratic plan to extend controls for six months to allow Congress time to develop its own energy plan. The House then passed a 60-day extension of the controls law.

But a snag developed when Senate Democrats insisted on limiting Ford's authority to send Congress a "take-it-or-leave-it" plan for phasing out price controls during the extension period. Such a plan would become law unless rejected by the House or Senate within five days.

Senate Republicans objected strenuously to that restriction. And Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., chairman of the House energy and power subcommittee, said the Senate move was inviting a veto.

"Let him (Ford) veto it," one top Senate aide told a reporter. "He originally wanted an immediate end to price controls and by his veto of the six-month extension he got just what he had asked for. Let's see if he really wants to run next year with $1-a-gallon gasoline."

State Patrol Completes Two Auto Larceny Cases

Two cases of auto larceny were completed this weekend by officers at the local State Highway Patrol Post. Sgt. Ronald Thompson stated this morning that it was only through the incessant efforts of the men that these two cases were finally solved. He noted that auto larceny is one of the most lucrative of criminal activities in this country.

The first case began when Mitchell D. Kent, St. Albans, W. Va. was stopped just north of Circleville on Sept. 4 by Ptl. E. J. Urban. The officer cited Kent with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. The officer brought Kent to

Man Shot By Robber

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The wife of Dr. David Love said her 43-year-old husband was trying to protect her when he was shot and wounded by a would-be robber Saturday night.

Police said Love was shot in the abdomen by one of two men who accosted the couple as they walked near Shaker Square in Cleveland.

Love was reported in fair condition in the intensive care unit of St. Luke's Hospital.

Mrs. Love said she married Love Aug. 20. Love's former wife, Virginia, died last year when she plunged to her death while Love was trying to hold her suspended nude by a rope from a third-floor window of their home in Cleveland Heights.

Love was fined $1,000 last January for his role in that death.

Set Subpoenas In Jimmy Hoffa Probe

DETROIT (AP) — A federal grand jury may subpoena three more reputed mob figures, including the alleged Mafia boss of Detroit, in connection with the disappearance of ex-Teamsters president James R. Hoffa, according to sources close to the investigation.

The three are Joseph Zerilli, Raffaele "Jimmy Q" Quasaran and Peter Vitale.

Vitale and Quasaran are acquaintances of Teamsters President Frank Fitzsimmons, according to Michigan law enforcement officials.

However, Fitzsimmons has not been subpoenaed and it is not known whether Vitale and Quasaran have been subpoenaed.

Quasaran said last month in a telephone interview that reports linking him to Hoffa's July 30 disappearance are "ridiculous." Quasaran, identified in U.S. Senate testimony as an "administrator" in the Mafia, said he knew Hoffa, but not well, adding: "He's a nice guy."

In 1963 Senate testimony, Zerilli was identified as the No. 1 Mafia figure in Detroit, although he has denied the accusation saying: "I've been in the bakery business for 36 years."

State and federal investigators have said repeatedly that if the mob had anything to do with Hoffa's disappearance, Zerilli would know about it.

There are conflicting reports as to whether the U.S. attorney's office working on the Hoffa case has issued a subpoena for Zerilli, who has eluded every grand jury in the past 30 years that has tried to find him.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market pulled back in very slow trading today, yielding again to concern over rising interest rates.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 6.02 at 803.27, and losers outnumbered gainers by close to a 2-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

The market's persistent concern over the interest rate outlook was underscored during the morning by the rapid spread of a quarter-point increase in the bank prime lending rate to 8 per cent.

Prince Charles Visits New Guinea

PORT MORESBY, Papua, New Guinea (AP) — Britain's Prince Charles, arriving here for ceremonies marking New Guinea's independence from Australia, was greeted by bare-breasted New Guinea girls in grass skirts who clapped and giggled.

Also on hand at the airport Sunday were Papua New Guineans wearing feather headdresses, with stone axes in their belts.

The blowing of conch horns Tuesday will signal the end of 92 years of Australian rule and turn the island's government over to Michael Somare, known locally as "the chief."

New Hampshire Campaign Bitter

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Bitter personal hostility between Democrat John A. Durkin and Republican Louis C. Wyman is marking the last days of New Hampshire's Senate campaign as the year-long rivals battle for advantage in a Tuesday runoff both hope will be decisive.

The antagonism between Durkin and Wyman flared Sunday, both on and off the air, as they participated in a pair of television interview programs to climax the campaign made necessary when the Senate was unable to decide who won their first race last November.

First Class Mail Delivery To Improve, Officials Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service says that starting next month it will give at least as good service for a 10-cent stamp as it now does for a 13-cent airmail stamp.

Under the program that takes effect Oct. 11, first-class mail will receive service "equal to or better than airmail," the Postal Service said Sunday.

"For the mailing public, the practical effect of the first-class improvement program is that domestic first-class postage will purchase the level of service that previously only airmail could buy," a Postal Service announcement said.

A Postal Service spokesman said much of the first-class mail destined for distant addresses now is transported by air. After Oct. 11, the Postal Service will guarantee that it will go by air, he said.

This means that there no longer will be an advantage in paying the extra three cents for an airmail stamp.

The Postal Service has discussed upgrading first-class mail since February but postponed the change until after new postal rates were decided upon.

The Postal Service on Sunday obtained the legal authority to begin the Durkin accused Wyman of engaging in Watergate-style tactics, while the GOP candidate claimed his opponent had lied repeatedly, as they clashed over a Republican letter to New Hampshire hunters that accused the Democrat of favoring gun control.

"I think it represents a new low in New Hampshire politics, and I'm ashamed of you," Durkin declared after he raised the issue and denied the charge on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

"I'm ashamed of you, Mr. Durkin, for lying time and time again," process of increasing postal rates. The Postal Service is expected to do so this week, resulting in an increase in the first-class rate from 10 to 13 cents after Christmas.

"Due to the extensive use of air transportation, adjustments in collection services and the use of letter sorting machines, the Postal Service has the capability of providing service to first-class mail which, on a national basis, will regularly equal or exceed airmail service performance," the announcement said.

The Postal Service says that under the new program it will be able to program more than 90 per cent of all first-class mail for either next-day or second-day delivery. At present, that schedule applies only to airmail.

The service improvement program applies to domestic first-class mail weighing 13 ounces or less. A separate air parcel service, known as priority mail, and international airmail will remain unchanged.

After Sept. 22, airmail stamps, stamped cards and envelopes can be exchanged at full postage value for ordinary stamps, stamped cards and envelopes.

Career Army Officers Face Forced End To Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, the Army is forcing out of the service some regular officers who in joining indicated they were making the Army a career.

The 625 regular officers are among 2,138 officers who will be dropped from the service by the end of September as part of a cutback to bring the number of Army officers to an authorized strength of 98,125 by June 30, 1976.

The change to permit the dropping of regulars during reductions in force was approved by a law sought by the Army. Before the legislation, the Army could drop only reserve officers even though they were outperforming regulars.

The new law permitted the Army to judge reserve and regular officers alike in identifying 2,700 officers for possible release from the service. A total of 2,138 were selected for release and were notified in June they would be dropped by the end of September.

All those selected for release were given a chance to appeal to the Army Active Duty Board, but the board says that as of early September it had received only 12 appeals.

The officers affected by this reduction in force were commissioned between 1967 and 1970, during the Vietnam buildup. The Army now says it has more officers than it needs because of that buildup.

The Army said that the typical officer selected to be released was 30.8 years old, with the youngest 25 and the oldest 44. It said that 50 per cent of the officers were 29, 30 or 31 years old.

The Army says it plans no further involuntary releases. It says that if more cutbacks are needed it hopes that normal attrition will meet its requirements to get down to the 98,125 level.

Encephalitis Declines In Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — No new cases of encephalitis were reported in Indiana this weekend, and state health officials say a recent cold spell may bring an end to the outbreak of the disease.

Nighttime temperatures have dropped into the low 30s and upper 40s during the past few days, and health experts says the chilly readings make conditions unfavorable for mosquito breeding. The insects transmit the disease to humans.

There is no cure for encephalitis. And the St. Louis strain of the disease is sometimes fatal, especially to older persons, according to medical experts.

"Although it's not real popular with the general citizenry, the cold weather is a good break in our fight to halt the spread of encephalitis," state epidemiologist Dr. Richard Telle said.

countered Wyman, claiming that Durkin had changed his gun control position.

An hour later, in another Boston studio, they went through a similar confrontation in an interview taped for showing today on NBC's "Today" show.

Both the 58-year-old Wyman, a conservative Republican who has spent 30 years in elected and appointed posts, and the 39-year-old Durkin, a liberal Democrat who was state insurance commissioner before launching his first bid for elective office last year, said they hope the margin Tuesday will be decisive.

Neither, however, would rule out a challenge if the outcome once more is close.

The Senate now consists of 61 Democrats and 39 Republicans, including Republican Norris Cotton, whose retirement led to the Wyman-Durkin race and who has been serving until a winner is chosen.

State Atty. Gen. Warren B. Rudman authorized election officials to turn over all ballots and tally sheets to the state police Tuesday night for safekeeping to avoid post-election problems.

Politicians here agree the Durkin-Wyman race is close and will be decided by which organization succeeds better in turning out its supporters. The third candidate, American Party nominee Carmen Chimento, a 45-year-old unemployed writer, is given no chance but is expected to poll more than the 1 per cent he received in November.

Some independent observers give Durkin an organizational edge but add quickly this might have been offset by the impact of President Ford's visit last Thursday, which drew large, friendly crowds in areas in which Durkin did well in the first election.

Tuesday's result may show if the Democratic tide of 1974 is still running and will test the potency of charges by Durkin, likely to be echoed by other Democrats next year, that President Ford has sided with "big oil" and other "special interests."

A Page Of Opinion

Cost Control A Mixed Bag

The Governor's Council for Cost Control has come up with a mixed bag in trying to save money in Ohio's motor vehicle world.

Among the recommendation are three of doubtful validity. First of these was a call for a slowdown in clearing roads after snowfalls, second was a doing away with deputy registrars for purchase of license plates, driver's licenses, etc., and third was to eliminate the requirement for some accident reports if all parties show evidence of insurance coverage.

This writer can vividly recall leaving another state's borders after traveling on slick and dangerous roads and crossing onto bare pavement upon returning to Ohio. This usually brought with it a surge of pride in living in Ohio. This would be taken away, and should not be.

Secondly, if a centralized license plate bureau was established, costs could rise instead of fall, and the inconvenience would be much greater than now. Possible abuse could also rise, as happened in another state a few years ago.

The third proposal, on elimination of accident reports, sounds good on paper but would not work in real life. Granted, it would cut down on the load of overworked police departments. However, the usual first question asked when an insurance claim is filed, is "Was an accident report taken?"

Without the accident report, the companies might be more reluctant to honor claims, with resultant money loss to drivers.

However, one recommendation should be adopted. It calls for use of only one license plate, with stickers for the next several years. Two plates are unnecessary and costly.

Better Not To Love

By JIM BISHOP

It is easy to put the rap on New York. Everybody does it. The metropolis is broke. The Big Apple is rotten to the core. There is less garbage because the poor are eating it. The knocks come from everywhere.

I have no love for New York. It took 25 years of my learning period. Somewhere between the spires I left a ragged garment called youth. The sleeve is missing. The lining is torn. Let it remain there.

Within me is a cynical gratitude. I was wise to her ways. She was my old prostitute friend. She never cared about anything except the next buck. And yet she was tender with a growing boy. She kept telling me that out there I would find a million O. Henry stories. I believed her. She was a jaded old bag, but she didn't lie. "Look," she said. I roamed the streets and alleys of the Village, Harlem, Tottenville, Coney Island, the Bronx, the East Side, Cherry Hill.

I looked. Sometimes I found a good love story, or a tricky murder, a sob story, an opening night, a suicide, a chorus girl who thought that beauty was forever, a family and furniture on the sidewalk, a crooked banker caught, a block dance, dark laughter and bright gin in Harlem, night court.

At dawn you could stand in front of the Automat at Times Square. In the silence, you could hear the city hum to herself. Big bustling bands of yellow and pink came up over the Palace Theater to touch the night clouds. A sign said: "Starring Belle Baker."

She was old, even then. There were cracks in her cheeks and her eyes were bright with fever. In the garment center men pushed hand trucks freezing to death. The subways roared and rocked the millions. The elevated trains squealed. Trolleys sighed when they stopped.

Everybody was in a hurry. In blinding snow and hot iron heat men rushed to their doom. The unemployed ran faster. We ate fast. We rushed to work; we rushed home. Cardiacs were fashionable. A man had to be well off to have one.

We muscled each other to see John McGraw's Giants. At the Stadium we saw Miller Huggins' sweet patooties — Koenig, Lazzari, Gehrig and Ruth. And how about Uncle Wilbert Robinson's Dodgers, the taxi driver yelling up from the street — "So they got three on. How many on second?"

She had a dandy mayor. Jimmy Walker. A crook? So what? She could afford him. And Boss Curry to oversee the stealing and make sure it got to the right pockets.

Larry Fay. Big Frenchie Demange. A bouncer named Toots Shor. John Barrymore telling a mounted policeman, "You're sore because you took the exam for sergeant and your horse passed." Peaches Browning, who holds the record for sleeping with her mother. Or is it schlepping?

The old bag had action. At the glittering Paramount, a skinny kid named Sinatra soloing with a band. Club Eighteen. Leon & Eddie's. N.T.G. The Follies. The Vanities. The Scandals. Nicky Blair. Major Bowes living on top of the Capitol Theater.

Gladys Glad. Texas Guinan. The kid who danced for dimes — George Raft. Owney Madden. Lepke. Edward R. Murrow. Allan Courtney. Norman Brokenshire. Grover Whalen. John Hylan. Martin Block.

The old buzzard had her lovers, her idolaters, her crushes. It was never

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Is inflation coming under control? Evidence that nobody knows is contained in the history of forecasts, which over the past decade have been lamentably inaccurate on this subject.

And the suggestion that one guess is as good as another is suggested by the amazingly wide range of opinions even among professionals who, like fortune tellers, earn good money for their alleged farsightedness.

Alan Greenspan, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, maintains the inflation rate will simmer down by next spring, and that the annual rate of inflation for 1976 would be about 7 per cent.

Even that rate, however, would hardly indicate that prices were under control, and Greenspan himself concedes it would be "by no means acceptable." No, not when we used to think that 3 per cent was too much.

The irrepressible Pierre Rinfret, whose opinions sometimes have been solicited by the White House and by political candidates, as well as by his regular big business clients, is a bit more cynical.

"Hope for the best, prepare for the worst. That's the strategy for 1976," Rinfret writes in his current "confidential" advisory.

"How do you protect yourself against inflation?" he asks rhetorically. "By raising your prices by more than the inflation rate," he answers, explaining that for a decade "the major mistake has been to believe inflation would disappear."

In the view of the National Association of Purchasing Management, the business recovery is under way but "an unwelcome return of price increases gives cause for concern."

But not all surveys of purchasing agents indicate a fear that inflation might undermine the recovery. The highly regarded magazine Purchasing World makes this unqualified declaration:

"Everybody is worried about prices — except buyers." John O'Connor, editor, conducted two surveys and reached the conclusion that "the people who actually pay the bills for their companies' supplies of goods and materials don't buy the economic doomsday prediction."

O'Connor observes that many sellers are maintaining high list, or book, prices, but are quoting actual prices much lower. He suggests that the government indexes, which are based on list prices, are thereby distorted.

Well, who do you believe? Searching for an answer one is eventually directed to the consumer, the final buyer, the final arbiter of prices, the ultimate decision maker. If the consumer is pessimistic he probably is so for good reason.

When the consumer believes his income will be sufficient and prices stable and the job market healthy, he is said to have confidence. Remove one of those factors, such as his belief in stable prices, and his confidence wanes.

The Sindlinger & Co. household survey was consulted in an effort to determine whether consumers were confident — that is, whether they thought prices and other economic factors were in their favor.

As of the final week of August they were divided 50-50, precisely, "a rare point when the ceaseless push-pull battle within the consuming public was at a total standoff."

Federal Funds For Aging OKd

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Commission on Aging has approved a plan for the use of $118,400 in federal funds for services for the elderly in Allen, Auglaize, Hancock, Hardin, Mercer, Putnam and Van Wert counties.

Martin A. Janis, executive director of the commission, said the funds will go to the PSA Number Three Agency on Aging Inc., Lima, which has been designated to coordinate and fund senior citizen services in the seven-county area.

The plan calls for an information-referral service, development of a legal program and other direct services for the elderly, Janis said. He said efforts are being made to establish county councils on aging to work with the area agency to implement specific projects.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Are people with high blood pressure allowed to exercise?
Mr. C.V., Fla.

Dear Mr. V.:

Sensible exercise is now prescribed for people who have had a heart attack. So certainly people with high blood pressure can, with proper conditioning, embark on a course of moderate exercise.

An interesting sidelight of the beneficial aspects of exercise is the fact that patients with high blood pressure were shown to have a distinct lowering of the blood pressure when exercise was carefully planned and gradually increased.

Another interesting finding showed that there was a reduction of the triglycerides, or fatty substances, in the blood after well-regulated exercise.

The psychological and physical benefits of exercise are great for people with conditions like hypertension. It removes the feeling that they are chronic invalids and helps to create a sense of well-being.

Of course, it must be restated that anyone with high blood pressure, or one who has suffered a heart attack, should embark on an exercise program with approval of the doctor. Specialists in exercise programming can now test the cardiac reserve of a person and plan a safe program for healthful exercise.

Is it possible to predict how tall a young child will be as an adult?
Mrs. B. J., Va.

Dear Mrs. J.:

With normal health and good nutrition, the family pattern of height is often a good guide to the probable height that a child will attain.

It is said that a boy at 27 months and a girl of 20 months will have reached half of their adult height.

It is also said that a boy of 9 and a girl of 7 have reached about three-fourths of their adult height.

There are, of course, variations of this rule that occur particularly with hormone imbalance and inadequate nutrition.

When children do not seem to have attained a height close to those in the same age group, it is a good idea to have the problem investigated. In many instances, hormone studies reveal the reason for a slow or impaired growth.

Then, with specific hormones, the rate of growth can often be stimulated.

Alphabet For Deaf Seen Inadequate

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — With the help of a computer, a team at Bowling Green State University is studying the adequacy of the sign language of the deaf.

The computer is helping Dr. Harry Hoemann, an associate professor of psychology, in his study of language used by those who can't hear.

"We wanted to see, initially, if the structural features of sign language are a finite set, like the alphabet," he said.

Research has indicated that deaf people don't construct sentences when they talk with their hands, he said.

Hike Tuition At Miami U

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Undergraduates at Miami University will pay $220 instructional fees per quarter beginning in January, trustees said Saturday.

The $10 fee increase will not affect the fall quarter which begins Sept. 24, the board said.

Dr. Phillip R. Shriver, Miami president, blamed the increase on inflation, legislative cutbacks, a decrease in allocations and civil service pay increases.

Beginning in January, the instructional fee on all Miami campuses will be $220 a quarter for undergraduates and $270 for graduate students. All other fees remain the same, the board said.

In other action on Saturday, the board raised the base student pay rate to $2.20 an hour from $2, effective Jan. 1.

Shriver told the board Oxford campus enrollment will be about 14,500 compared with 14,293 last year.

Surveys Slated On Wildlife Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University and the state Department of Natural Resources are cosponsoring surveys to determine the state's woodcock population and the public usage of wildlife areas.

The survey of wildlife areas will be conducted at 43 state areas over a one-year period, officials said. The study is to determine the recreational uses of the areas with an eye toward future programs.

Wildlife division chief Dale Haney said the woodcock survey is to determine the sex and age of migratory or resident woodcock populations in Ohio and the number of hunters in the state. It will be made through the woodcock hunting season, which ends Nov. 13.

The first school for the deaf in mid-18th century Paris, Hoemann said, modified the street language used by the deaf.

And Hoemann believes Trappist monks who took a vow of silence may have done some talking—with their hands. He thinks some of their signs may be included among those in common usage by the deaf today.

With the help of his wife, Shirley, a commercial artist and designer, and Vicky Florian, a research assistant, Hoemann set up a computer to give sign language.

The first step was to create a design of face and hands on the viewing screen. They were stored in the computer's memory bank. With instructions from the keyboard, the hand moves over the face to give the proper sign for the object asked.

Hoemann says the study will enable him to determine if sign language now being used is adequate. He also hopes to learn its structure.

"Once the structure is known, it can have an impact on speech therapy, he said. "Once we know how the language works, it will shed light."

"It will also tell us something about how the human mind works," he said. "Man is the only animal able to adapt by instinct. Maybe this adaptability applies to hand language."

Hoemann worked with deaf persons in special education classes and in church work before becoming a psychologist. He has written a training manual for use in communication with the deaf.

The computer study has shown that each of three sign language components is distinctive. Hoemann said a potential 616 signs can be produced.

He plans to study how much distortion of a component of a sign is acceptable before it becomes unrecognizable. In this way, he said, he can study how much deviation is allowed before the meaning of a sign is lost.

Visiting Fellow Set At Kenyon

GAMBIER, Ohio (AP) — Lord Caradon, former Great Britain ambassador to the United Nations, will be Kenyon College's first Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellow, Sept. 21-28.

The college said he was the first in a series of visitors to the Kenyon campus in a program designed to bridge the gap between academic and non-academic worlds.

Lord Caradon will function in various capacities as a visiting professor during the week. His first lecture will be held Sept. 22 on "What Hope In The Middle East."

Death Threatened For U.S. Prisoners

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Eritrean rebels threatened today to kill four Americans taken prisoner in northern Ethiopia unless the United States stops supplying arms to the Ethiopian government.

Two of the Americans were kidnapped Saturday along with six Ethiopians when raiders attacked the U.S. Kagnev communications facility near Asmara, the capital of Eritrea province. The Pentagon said the Americans were Navy Electronic Tech. 3.C. Thomas C. Bowidowicz of Jersey City, N.J., and Army Spec. 5 David Strickland of Orlando, Fla.

Two other Americans, Steve Campbell of San Leandro, Calif., and Jim Harrell of Milwaukee, Wis., were kidnapped from Kagnev in July. Both were civilian technicians and were reported seen by a Syrian photographer last month in the hands of the rebels.

A spokesman for the Eritrean Liberation Front in Beirut said the ELF transmitted four demands to Washington through "a U.S. embassy in the Middle East."

In addition to the arms ban the demands included:

—Dismantling the Kagnev base and an Ethiopian naval base under construction at Massawa, Ethiopia's chief port on the Eritrean coast.

—Compensation for areas of Eritrea that suffered heavy damage in attacks by the U.S.-equipped Ethiopian air force during fighting between the rebels and the Ethiopian government last February.

—U.S. government pressure on Ethiopia's military government to free all Eritrean rebels it holds.

"We demand a public U.S. government statement on these demands. Otherwise we shall not be responsible for what will happen to the four American captives," the ELF spokesman said.

He said the four captives were being treated well and fed well. He said they were being held "somewhere in northern Eritrea" but would not be more specific.

Harrell's mother, Mrs. William Harrell, said Sunday the State Department has advised her that negotiations for his release have broken down.

"They can't get anybody to negotiate with them," she said an official told her.

A State Department spokesman in Washington would not comment today on the status of the negotiations.

Catholics Celebrate Seton Sainthood

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Thousands of Roman Catholics from the United States today continued a week-long celebration of the canonization of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, a convert to Catholicism nearly 200 years ago who has become the first native-born American saint.

U. S. Ambassador John Volpe and Henry Cabot Lodge, President Ford's envoy to the Vatican, were giving a reception for many of the nearly 20,000 Americans who came to Rome for the canonization ceremony in St. Peter's Square Sunday.

In the evening, John Cardinal Wright, the highest ranking American at the Vatican, was leading a tribute to Mother Seton at the Catacombs of San Callisto.

"Elizabeth Ann Seton was wholly American," Pope Paul VI told the throng of pilgrims packing St. Peter's Square Sunday. "Rejoice, we say to the great nation of the United States. Rejoice for your glorious daughter. Be proud of her and know how to preserve her faithful heritage."

The 77-year-old pontiff led the service standing at an altar atop the steps of St. Peter's Basilica. He spoke in carefully enunciated English.

The music was supplied by the Vatican's Sistine Choir and the Community Chorus of Emmitsburg, Md., where in 1809, Mother Seton founded the Sisters of Charity, the first religious order of women in the United States.

The crowd included a thousand of the 8,000 Sisters of Charity and more than 15,000 other Americans who came to Rome on a seven-day, $500 package trip.

The 30-minute canonization service, inserted near the beginning of a two-hour Mass, stressed women's contributions to society and emphasized what Pope Paul called the complete femininity of Mother Seton — wife, mother of five children, widow and nun.

The Pope recalled that the United Nations declared 1975 International Women's Year.

"We rejoice at the bond that is established between this program and today's canonization," he said.

"... May the dynamism and authenticity of her life be an example in our day — and for generations to come — of what women can and must accomplish in the fulfillment of their role for the good of humanity."

Born in New York City in 1774, Elizabeth Ann Bayley was the daughter of an upper-class Protestant couple who at the age of 19 married William Seton, a member of a wealthy shipping family. She and her husband were visiting Italy when he died of tuberculosis in 1803, and soon after she became a Catholic to the dismay of her family and friends.

Mrs. Seton moved to Baltimore and then to Emmitsburg, took vows, founded the Sisters of Charity and established a school from which the parochial school system evolved. She died in 1821, and in 1882, James Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore launched her candidacy for sainthood.

Mother Seton was beatified, the last step before sainthood, in 1963 by Pope John XXIII.

Cleveland Sprays For Encephalitis

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland officials were checking today to see how effective Sunday's aerial spraying of the entire city has been in eliminating the swarms of mosquitoes blamed for an outbreak of encephalitis.

Prespray estimates were that 95 per cent of the mosquitoes would be killed.

Forecast

OHIO— Considerable cloudiness and slowly moderating temperatures tonight and Tuesday with chance of showers entire state tonight and Tuesday. Low tonight in the middle to lower 50s. High Tuesday in the middle to lower 70s.

CENTRAL EAST CENTRAL SOUTHEAST Cloudy tonight and Tuesday with a chance of showers and not as cool. Lows tonight in the low to mid 50s. Highs Tuesday in the low 70s. Chance of rain 30 per cent tonight and Tuesday.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Clouds moved over the state last evening, halting another temperature plunge toward record lows.

The clouds came too late to spare Toledo, where readings fell to 39, breaking the old record for the date of 40, set in 1966. That made the third straight night Toledo set a new low temperature record.

Elsewhere in the state, temperatures generally ranged from the mid 40s to the low 50s at daybreak.

The weather map continues to be dominated by high pressure. The ridge of high pressure was along the Atlantic Coast at daybreak, drifting out to sea. South to southeast winds behind the high are gradually bringing warmer and more moist air up from the Gulf of Mexico.

Boyd Marsh, Cleveland's commissioner of environmental control, said Sunday's spraying, which covered all 48,951 acres of the city, also would reduce next year's mosquito hatch.

The twin-engine DC3 that did the job zig-zagged across the city for four hours, spraying the insecticide Malathion from low altitudes—generally about 150 feet.

Dr. Ronald Swanger, city health commissioner, said he had been advised that the mosquitoes should die on contact with the Malathion spray "or within 12 hours."

The aerial attack by a Georgia firm was ordered by Mayor Ralph J. Perk in the wake of reports of five confirmed and about 50 suspected cases of the St. Louis strain of encephalitis—commonly called sleeping sickness.

The disease is transmitted by mosquitoes, which pick it up from birds. Swarms of mosquitoes have hatched in the Cleveland area in the wake of recent storms and flooding.

The red and white DC3 took off from Lost Nation Airport at Willoughby in mid-afternoon under sunny skies and with temperatures in the 60s, spraying about three ounces of the insecticide per acre.

Dr. Ruth Miller, city health director, said the insecticide is safe for people, animals and wildlife. However, the health department warned beekeepers that there might be a hazard to bees.

Classes Resume At Cardington

CARDINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Some 1,300 students returned to school here today after classes were suspended for more than a week because of inadequate water pressure.

The school superintendent said pressure was restored over the weekend.

Classes were suspended Sept. 4 after wells began failing to provide the village of 1,700 with adequate water.

Thieves Get 5 CB Radios

Citizen band radios "are good merchandise to re-sell," Circleville Police Sgt. Larry Pontious said Monday, analyzing the theft of five CB units from cars parked on city streets last weekend and the attempted theft of another.

The thefts "aren't just confined to the Circleville area," he said. Federal crime statistics show that CB radios are stolen at a greater rate than any other merchandise across the nation.

The five most recent thefts all occurred within the same time period (late Saturday night to early Sunday morning) and all featured the same means of entry.

In all cases, the radios were the only items stolen from the cars, although other valuable merchandise was in clear view of the thieves, police said.

The most valuable unit taken was a General Electric Progress two-way 30 watt mobile unit estimated at $700.

It was taken from a car owned by Ned Harden, 146 Park Place.

Thieves apparently entered the locked car through the driver's door after working the door mechanism with a coat-hanger or other wire-like object.

A Realistic 23-channel CB unit, valued at $160, was taken from a car owned by Donald Eldridge, 885 Atwater Ave.

The thieves apparently broke in through the wing window on the driver's side to unbolt the unit from its bracket.

Max Wagner, 939 S. Washington St., told police that thieves entered his locked car, parked behind his apartment house, to take a J.C. Penny Pinto unit valued at $155.95.

Investigating officers discovered small pry marks on the passenger door.

A Teaberry CB unit, valued at $165, was taken from a car owned by Lloyd Curry, 136 York St.

Entry was gained through the driver's door. Police noted that the thieves were professional in removing the unit, unscrewing it from its mount under the dash of the car and disconnecting the wiring.

Wires were not cut on a Lafayette 23-channel unit stolen from a car owned by Dale Martin, 151 Hayward Ave.

Police found pry marks on the driver's door near the wing window.

Thieves apparently made an unsuccessful attempt to take a radio unit from a car owned by John Strawser, 401 E. Ohio St. A unit was taken from his vehicle about two months ago, police said.

Strawser apparently frightened the thieves from the area 3:20 a.m. Sunday.

"A good way to put an end to the thievery here," Sgt. Pontious said, "is to keep a copy of the serial number of the radio unit." This apparently aids in the return of units when theft rings are apprehended.

Balloons Mark Women's Communion

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — No one explained the significance of the balloons hanging on strings inside the church as six women defied Episcopal Episcopal church bishops consider the women's ordination invalid and have refused to sanction their participation in communion.

Many of them travel to different churches to celebrate communion, but few church leaders will permit them to take part in services, the Rev. Suzanne Hiatt said here Sunday.

"They say good luck to you. Try to keep warm and well fed," she added.

The rector, the Rev. Dalton D. Downs may face a church trial for defying the orders of Bishop John B. Burt, who forbade him to invite the women.

The Rev. Mr. Downs said that his action Sunday has also jeopardized an $11,000 yearly grant from the diocese to the local church. He said the money is used to administer to the needy in the inner city community around the church.

The priest said the Diocese Council will consider whether to continue the grant at its meeting this week.

"Why do women persist on getting nice young men like the Rev. Mr. Downs and the Rev. Mr. Beebe in trouble and keeping the church in an uproar?" the Rev. Miss Miatt asked during her sermon.

The Rev. L. Peter Beebe of Oberlin is the other Ohio priest who has invited women to participate in services. The Rev. Mr. Beebe was later found guilty by a church court of violating church law.

The Rev. Miss Hiatt answered herself, saying, "because we do have something to risk and to take risks for our faith is a very important thing."

She said the women's actions involves a measure of arrogance, "because we presume to be right . . . but we also see great good coming out of all this trouble."

Car Flips After Crash

Two people were hurt in separate auto accidents investigated by Circleville Police Saturday.

Keith Poling, 17, 344 E. Franklin St., was treated by Circleville Emergency Squadmen for a laceration to his right elbow which was suffered in a one-car accident 8:09 p.m. Saturday on Nicholas Drive.

Police said Poling was headed toward the Lancaster Pike intersection when the right front wheel of his car hit a curb, which is being built along the length of the street.

Impact jolted the car to its left side, and it flipped to its top before coming to rest about 500 feet from the intersection.

Sandy Carter, 15, Route 5, a passenger in the car was not hurt.

Alonzo Goodwin, 10, 350 John St., was treated at Berger Hospital for an abrasion to his left elbow and later released following a 3:30 p.m. Saturday accident.

Police said Goodwin apparently drove his bicycle off the sidewalk at E. Union St. and struck a car driven by Carl Hall, 59, 356 E. Ohio St.

Hall told officers he was waiting at the intersection of Abernathy Ave. and E. Union St. to make a right turn.

Numbers Tips Given On Radio

WASHINGTON (AP) — When is Luke, chapter 3, verse 15 not a scriptural reference? When it is broadcast as a tip for winning bets in an illegal "numbers" game, says the Federal Communications Commission.

The FCC said tips disguised as scriptural references were sprinkled in some religious radio programs broadcast in the nation's capital.

And for this and other reasons, the agency revoked the license for United Broadcasting Co., Inc., to run radio station WOOK and gave it to a new group which includes newspaper columnist Jack Anderson.

"The record clearly establishes that WOOK's facilities were used by various ministers to broadcast programs offering three-digit scripture citations in return for monetary donations," said the FCC decision made Tuesday and released Friday.
"The broadcasting ministers claimed that the scripture citations had been successful in enabling their listeners to receive financial blessings — win at the numbers game."

For example, a reference to Luke, chapter 3, verse 15 would be a tip to bet the number 315 in that day's illegal numbers game.

The 7 to 0 decision also said the station had permitted false advertising, including ads for roots and incense that would give the purchasers luck in the numbers game, and that it failed to comply with technical regulations.

French Cattle To Aid U.S. Output?

LULING, Tex. (AP) — Beef producers could buy less grain and housewives would get less fat if American ranchers started driving Limousins, an outgoing Texas cattle breeder says.

Limousins are French cattle expanding in United States livestock markets because of their efficiency at putting on lean weight.

"They don't weigh as much as some other cattle, but they'll cut out more beef and they'll do it on less grain, which keeps the price of bread and everything else down for the housewife," Ben Woodson of Del Rio, Tex., said.

Woodson and his partner, Hays Mitchell of Marfa, bought 43 purebred Limousins, including five bulls, from a Canadian breeder recently in the largest such transaction to date in the United States.

They were hosts recently to a gathering of newsmen and beef producers at their rolling Deux Amis Limousin Ranch near here.

Only 200 purebred Limousins are registered in the United States, although some 140,000 Limousin crosses have been recorded since the first animal was introduced in 1968.

Woodson said tests showed that butchers dress out two to three per cent more from Limousins than other more common steers, such as Herefords and Angus.

Of that dressed out Limousin, there will be six per cent to seven per cent more red meat, he added.

"The housewife will be buying a lot more bites of meat instead of scraps of fat and bones for the dog," Woodson said as the visitors scrutinized five golden-red bulls penned nearby.

The Texas breeder said numerous tests showed the French steers eat about two pounds less grain for every pound of live weight they produce when compared to other steers in the United States.

Woodson and North American Limousin Foundation vice president Bob Van Trease added that Limousins are rugged, fertile animals which have few problems calving or giving enough milk.

Van Trease said Limousins require less grain because it takes a seventh as much feed to produce lean meat as it does to produce fat.

"These cattle eat less grain because they're putting on lean instead of fat," he said.

He added that efficiency in production has become critical to ranchers since market problems began developing two years ago.

Van Trease said United States ranchers might have turned to Limousins years ago except for tradition and difficulty in importing French animals.

Law prohibits importation of animals from countries where there is known hoof and mouth disease, he said.

To import the animals, U.S. breeders went to neutral nations such as Canada and bought offspring of animals imported from France into the neutral nation.

Raunchy Romeo Crushes Relationship

DEAR ABBY: I should be so lucky as the woman who for 30 years has been sleeping back to back with her husband like a pair of fireplace logs.

We've been married for 32 years, and my 220-pound Romeo holds me in his arms every night until my ribs ache. One night with him and I feel like I've been run over by a semi.

He smokes cigars and loves salami, pickles and garlic, so you know what his breath is like. I've smelled better cesspools.

His toenails are 2 in. long and sharp as razor blades, and he wraps his legs around mine like he's climbing a rope.

He sleeps in his shorts, and his chest is covered with bristly hair. It's like sleeping with a raccoon all summer. On top of this, he thinks he's the world's greatest lover, which he isn't. Please help me. I'm about to cave in.

WATERLOO WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I assume you're on speaking terms with your Romeo, so start talking. Insist that he wear pajama tops, trim his toenails, use a mouthwash and loosen his grip. But don't tell him he's not the world's greatest lover because he'll wonder how you found out.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 31-year-old, single career woman. I live alone and recently decided to take up jogging to keep myself physically fit.

The first time I went out jogging, I was stopped by a cop. He said he had noticed me running for two blocks and wanted to know what the trouble was. I told him there was't any trouble and that I was just jogging.

I have tried to find others who would jog with me, but no luck. The people I know are just too lazy.

So, Dear Abby, where can a person jog in peace, without appearing that she had just robbed somebody in making a getaway?

WANTS TO JOG

DEAR WANTS: First, get yourself a sweatshirt and have printed on the back, "JUST JOGGING!" Then, drive your car to a park or playground where other joggers jog and join them.

DEAR ABBY: I have received some expensive gifts (jewelry) from a gentleman with whom I have been keeping steady company for quite some time.

Shouldn't he pay for insuring these gifts? He surely must know that I don't have that kind of money, but so far he hasn't mentioned it.

GIFTED

DEAR GIFTED: So YOU mention it.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding AFFECTIONATE FATHER: There are a couple of guys-25 and 32-I see a few times during the year. They always greet me with a bear hug and a kiss on the cheek, which I return. A 42-year-old 6'3" guy also gives a big hug.

They're my two grown sons and son-in-law, and when that happens my day is made.

News Wire Costs May Rise Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has ruled illegal a rate arrangement by which news wire services have been able to cut the expense of their leased telephone lines. And it refused to approve another cost-cutting plan.

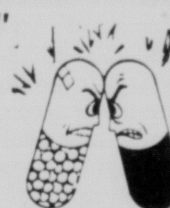

The commission's decisions, announced Friday, are expected to increase considerably the cost to the wire services for use of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. facilities.

However, the FCC said it would soon institute a separate investigation of the need for preferential press rates for private line services.

Wheat Sale Aids U.S. Metrification

WASHINGTON (AP) — However confusing it might appear to casual observers, the current situation involving U.S. crop production and the controversial sales of wheat and corn to Russia is providing a practical exercise in the use of the metric system of measurements.

For most Americans, the unit of measurement used in farm commodities is the bushel. The bushel is a measure of volume, not weight, and is equal to four pecks or 32 quarts. Thus, the weight of a bushel of grain varies according to the commodity measured.

A bushel of wheat weighs 60 pounds, for trade purposes, but a bushel of shelled corn is 56 pounds. Barley weighs 48 pounds per bushel and oats, the lightest of the major grains, weighs 32 pounds.

But international trade uses the metric ton as the standard measure. And it is solely a unit of weight, regardless of the commodity, equal to 2,204.6 pounds or 1,000 kilograms of 2.2046 pounds each.

Increasingly, U.S. trade and government officials use metric tons when they speak of exports, sales to the Russians and even the size of crops being produced by American farmers.

But each metric ton of wheat contains a different number of bushels than a similar ton of corn, barley or oats. For example, there are about 36.7 bushels of wheat in a metric ton (incidentally, called a "tonne" in Europe); 39.4 bushels of corn; 45.9 bushels of barley; and 68.9 bushels of oats.

As it has for several years, the Agriculture Department last week included metric equivalents in its monthly report on U.S. crop production. For example, the September estimate of 5.69 billion bushels of corn to be produced this year was equal to 144.46 million metric tons. The wheat crop of 2.14 billion bushels was 58.1 million tons.

The Soviet Union bought a total of 9.8 million tons of wheat, corn and barley from U.S. firms in July and want to buy more. But the total tonnage cannot be converted accurately into total bushels without computing each of the three commodities because of their different weights per bushel.

Auto Insurance Hiked For State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state faces a Valentine's Day deadline to work out options to bring down the cost of insurance for state-owned vehicles. Officials say the cost of insuring state-owned vehicles, already about $499,000 annually, could double next year.

Walter McCleary, deputy director of office services for the Ohio Department of Administrative Services, said because of that prediction, his department will do everything possible to reduce its accident rate before negotiations for new coverage begin in about 45 days.

According to Henry Anderson, chief of insurance and risk management for the department, present insurance coverage with the Reliance Insurance Co. of Philadelphia expires Feb. 14. "Our accident rate is high and the losses at present are running over 100 per cent of the premium," Anderson said.

The state does not actually insure its own vehicles for repairs after an accident, but does pay for liability coverage for bodily injury and for property damage to others.

"It's basically third-party liability," Anderson explained.

Also, Anderson pointed out that the 15,000 vehicles the insurance covers include trucks, trailers, tractors, mowers, and farm machinery, as well as passenger cars and station wagons.

Only about two-thirds of the vehicles are licensed for highway use.

Phillip S. Hamilton, deputy director of personnel for the department, said programs will be initiated soon to provide better accident reporting within state government and added driver training, particularly for drivers involved in accidents.

He said the accident reporting will include some form of point system to record when state employees are responsible for accidents so that drivers with serious accident records can be denied state vehicle driving privileges.

Anderson said if such programs could substantially reduce accident frequency and severity, the state might bargain a lower rate than now anticipated.

But, he said, rates industrywide are increasing about 25 per cent, regardless of accident experience ratings.

Anderson said the state has three options to help cut premiums: reduce the number of state-owned vehicles; become self-insured and stand good for claims without a private carrier; or establish a deductible amount on liability coverage similar to most motorists' insurance.

Cincinnati Bengals Blank Saints, 20-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — Boobie Clark is back. Stan Fritts is arriving. And Ken Anderson can't wait to get going. "This is what we needed to get some momentum rolling," said Anderson, whose first-half leadership triggered the Cincinnati Bengals' 20-0 exhibition victory over the New Orleans Saints Saturday night.

"Everything's falling into place," said Anderson, who completed 13 of 19 passes in the first half for 137 yards and one touchdown.

A crowd of 48,000 watched the Bengals register their first exhibition shutout in the club's eight-year history.

And while Coach Paul Brown downplayed the victory, he was understandably excited with the crunching running of Clark and Fritts.

In fact, Brown hinted Fritts, who led all rushers with 90 yards in 12 carries, may have won a starting job with Clark in next Sunday's home opener against the rival Cleveland Browns.

Fritts, a 6-foot-1, 210-pound fourth round draft pick out of North Carolina State, had a stunning night, the best by a Bengal back during the pre-season. Labeled "too small and too slow" most of his career, he averaged 7.5 yards per carry, getting the bulk of his yardage on a 44-yard draw play that set up one of Cincinnati two first-half touchdowns.

Clark, the Bengals' rhino-sized fullback who missed most of 1974 with a broken arm, looked as devastating as he was in 1973 when he rumbled for 988 yards as a rookie.

But Brown didn't take any chances with Clark, yanking him out of the lineup at halftime for fear of injury. "I just had a funny feeling about him," said Brown. Clark had 44 yards in 11 carries.

The victory, Cincinnati's fourth in the last five games, gave the Bengals a 4-3 exhibition record. The Saints, who got within the Bengals' 40-yard line twice during the night, finished at 2-4.

Brown suggested the Saints were "playing under wraps," possibly holding back for their opener against the rugged Washington Redskins next Sunday.

Patriots On Strike Alone

By CRAIG AMMERMAN
AP Sports Writer

Sympathy abounds among National Football League players for the New England Patriots' lonely strike stance. Whether it can be turned into real support in the next 48 hours will likely determine the outcome of the players' latest rebellion.

The Patriots, in a show of solidarity, voted to strike and forced the cancellation of their Sunday exhibition against the New York Jets in the belief that others would follow their demand that NFL owners and the players' union reach agreement on a new labor contract.

The followers did not materialize over the weekend and now the Patriots face a lockout by management if they attempt to resume practice Tuesday for this weekend's NFL opener against Houston.

Team after team announced Sunday they supported the Patriots. The St. Louis Cardinals even voted 30-16 to strike, but decided that vote was not strong enough and went ahead with their exhibition game against Denver, which the Broncos won 21-17.

"We do not enjoy this task which we have taken upon ourselves," said Randy Vataha, player representative for the Patriots, who voted 39-2 to strike. Vataha, holding a news conference in a restaurant parking lot in Foxboro, Mass., Sunday, called on the other 25 NFL clubs to join the Patriots on the strike line.

But with one week remaining before the NFL season opens — when the players begin drawing regular checks — there were no immediate takers. Player representatives for four teams — Buffalo, Denver, Cincinnati and Dallas — said their teams would not vote to strike, and others said they had no immediate intentions of taking strike votes.

Reds Split Twinbill With Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants and the Cincinnati Reds are both thinking of the future, but there is a difference — the Reds' is only two weeks away.

Manager Sparky Anderson needs

five victories to break the Cincinnati record of 102 set in 1970, but he's also resting his players for the National League baseball playoffs beginning in two weeks.

The Giants, meanwhile, are thinking toward 1976 and beyond. Manager Wes Westrum proved that Sunday by giving rookie right-handers Rob Dressler and Greg Minton their first major league starts in a double-header split with the Reds.

Dressler, 21, worked six and one-third innings of the opener, allowing two runs and not figuring in the decision as the Giants rallied to a 4-2 victory. Minton, 24, pitched six shutout innings in the second game after yielding a three-run homer in the first during the Reds' 8-3 romp.

"They both have great arms and are great prospects," said Westrum. "Dressler is more of a sinkerball pitcher with a good slider. He has good control and keeps the ball down. Minton is more of the over-powering type."

Anderson was similarly impressed. "Every time I look up, the Giants are throwing a new pitcher at us," he said. "The two kids look pretty good. I've said all along the Giants should be very tough in the future because of their good, young pitching."

The split gave Cincinnati a final 13-5 advantage over the Giants this season. The Reds are idle today, but San Francisco hosts Atlanta in the opener of a three-game series tonight.

Home runs by Dave Rader and Steve Ontiveros on successive pitches by Gary Nolan, 139, in the seventh inning cracked a 2-2 tie and gave the Giants the victory in the opener. Dave Heaverlo, 3-1, was the winner in relief, retiring the last seven Reds.

Darrel Chaney's three-run homer in the first got the Reds going against Minton, 0-1, in the second game. Pat Darcy, 10-5, was the winner as Cincinnati broke it open with five runs in the eighth, including Dan Driessen's two-run double.

The Reds, who have 98 wins, begin a two-game series at San Diego Tuesday night. Anderson is encouraged that Johnny Bench's bruised ankle isn't as serious as originally feared. The ankle was injured in a game here Friday night, and Anderson says the slugger should be ready for action by Thursday.

Mike Vail is a streak hitter ... and the streaks never seem to stop.

New York's rookie sensation, leading the International League in batting, was plucked from the Mets' Tidewater farm club about a month ago, interrupting his 19-game hitting streak.

The move was designed to help the Mets in their charge toward the top of the National League East, a charge that never materialized.

But while the Mets have slowed down, Vail has picked up even more speed. He's hit in 23 of his 25 games in the majors, including the last 22 in a row to match the longest streak in the big league's this year by Boston's Denny Doyle.

No. 22, off St. Louis' John Denny in the Mets' 6-2 loss to the Cardinals, also moved Vail within one game of the NL record for rookie streak-hitting, set by Philadelphia's Joe Rupp in 1921 and equalled by the Phils' Richie Ashburn in 1948. The major league mark for rookies is 26 by Guy Courtright of the 1943 Chicago White Sox. Vail is also one game away from matching the Mets' alltime hitting streak of 23 by Cleon Jones in 1970.

In Sunday's other NL games, Pittsburgh remained 5½ games ahead of Philadelphia. The Pirates beat Montreal 4-3, the Phils routed Chicago 13-7, San Francisco split with Cincinnati, winning 4-2 and losing 8-3, Houston topped San Diego 4-2 and Los Angeles downed Atlanta 4-3.

"I was pretty happy about that," Vail said of his fourthinning single. "I think my hitting's been seeing the ball better in major league parks. There are better lights up here." The figures back him up. He was hitting .342 at Tidewater. He's batting .347 with the Mets.

Pirates 4, Expos 3

Miguel Dilone raced from first to home with the aid of an error to help Pittsburgh beat Montreal. Woodie Fryman walked Manny Sanguillen and Bob Robertson in the eighth inning and Dilone replaced Robertson.

Duffy Dyer's single to right scored Sanguillen and when Tony Scott, a defensive replacement, bobbled the ball, Dilone steamed home, too.

Phillies 13, Cubs 7

Mike Schmidt, the major league home-run leader, belted his 35th and 36th of the year to pace the Phils. Schmidt drove in four runs and Dick Allen had three RBI on a homer and a single.

Astros 4, Padres 2

Enos Cabell's two RBI and the combined nine-hit pitching of J.R. Richard and Joe Niekro carried Houston past the Padres. John Grubb had a two-run double for San Diego.

Dodgers 3 Braves 2

Ron Cey's 24th homer, a two-run shot in the sixth inning lifted Los Angeles past the Braves and gave Doug Rau his fifth straight victory.

Ohio State Blanks Michigan State, 21-0

By JOE MOOSHL
AP Sports Writer

Woody Hayes of Ohio State and Bo Schembechler of Michigan seldom are in agreement except for their style of football play.

Although the Big Ten season is one-game old, they apparently had different views of the campaign after both turned back would-be contenders in style.

Ohio State blanked Michigan State 21-0 and Michigan turned back Wisconsin 23-6. Michigan State and Wisconsin were supposed to be teams who would break up the Ohio State-Michigan monopoly on Big Ten titles.

Hayes quoted poet William Wordsworth, "The old order changeth . . . give way to the new order."

Hayes then added, "Well, the old order hasn't changeth yet."

But Schembechler, asked if the triumphs by Michigan and Ohio State would make the Big Ten another two-team race, said flatly "Hell, no." "We have to play Michigan State yet and they are a good team no matter what happened to them," said Schembechler.

What happened to Michigan State was too much Ohio State defense to go along with two touchdown runs by Pete Johnson, another 100-yard rushing game by Archie Griffin and a 64-yard touchdown pass by Cornelius Greene.

The Buckeye defense limited Michigan State to 80 yards rushing and 93 passing and completely harassed star quarterback Charlie Baggett who threw three interceptions and had "an average day" by Coach Denny Stolz' admission.

The three interceptions? All by Craig Cassidy. He's the son of Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, a Heisman Trophy winner at Ohio State, whom

Hornets Top Sun, 30-22

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The former Trojans celebrated "USC Day" in fine fashion — only they were on the losing side.

It was billed as "USC Day" Sunday as former University of Southern California quarterback Pat Haden played his last home game for the World Football League's Southern California Sun. Besides Haden, the announced crowd of 11,123 paid tribute to other former Trojans now with the Sun — Anthony Davis, John McKay and Jimmy Sims.

Haden and Daryle Lamonica passed for 253 yards and Davis ran for 141 yards and two touchdowns.

But it was the Charlotte Hornets who came away with the victory, 30-22.

In other games Sunday, Memphis downed Shreveport 34-23 and Hawaii trimmed Jacksonville 33-15.

On Saturday, Birmingham beat San Antonio 33-24 and Portland clipped Philadelphia 25-10.

Circleville's reserve football team handed Teays Valley a 12-0 setback Saturday morning on the Tiger turf.

Dave Marshall cracked off tackle in the first quarter for three yards and a touchdown. A conversion run failed.

Mike Brudzinski broke over tackle in the third period and raced 12 yards to paydirt for the final score. A pass for the conversion was no good.

Circleville coaches expressed praise for the fine progress of the junior and sophomore members of the Tigers.

Ball State Blasts Toledo, 38-28

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Those new kids in the league are taking turns leading the early Mid-American Conference football race.

It's Ball State this week after the Cardinals made their debut with a rousing 38-28 success Saturday over Toledo, one of the old guard.

Another expansion school, Central Michigan, tumbled from the No. 1 spot to second place after settling for a 6-6 standoff with Ohio University.

That put Ball State at 1-0-0 and Central Michigan at 1-0-1. However, the expected contenders, defending champion Miami (Ohio), Bowling Green and Kent State, have yet to play their first 1975 conference games.

Miami tuned up for a big date at Michigan State this week, clobbering Marshall 50-0 for the Redskins' 24th game without defeat.

In other nonconference activity Saturday, Western Michigan dropped its second straight decision 27-21 to

Akron, Eastern Michigan squared its record at 1-1 in beating Indiana State 30-7, Kent State salvaged a 31-29 triumph over Northeast Louisiana, Bowling Green edged Brigham Young 23-21, and Northern Illinois fell to Long Beach 24-7.

Ohio's Gary Homer and Raid Savich of Central Michigan traded two field goals each, which made Bobcats' Coach Bill Hess unhappy. "We didn't come all the way here for a loss or tie. We expected to win," snapped the Ohio coach.

Said Roy Kramer, Central Michigan's coach, "We couldn't establish our inside running game and couldn't maintain consistency. It was a typical MAC game—good, old-fashioned, slug-out football."

Ball State blunted Toledo passing whiz Gene Swick. He could complete only 15 of 38 passes for a sub-standard 158 yards, bringing a huge grin to Cardinal Coach Dave McClain's face.

"It's the most satisfying victory for me as a head coach," said McClain of his team's first ever game in the MAC.

Quarterback Art Yaroch drilled two touchdown passes and ran for a third score, leading Ball State to a 2-0 start. Toledo fell to 1-1.

"We were outthit, outcoached and didn't have enough pride in our defense. We deserved to lose," said Jack Murphy, Toledo's coach.

Miami Coach Dick Crum was not at all pleased with the Redskins' opening rout, paved by new tailback Rob Carpenter's two touchdowns.

"If we were to play at Michigan State the way we did today, we would be out of the game early. The thing that saved us was the big play," said Crum.

Meanwhile, third-ranked Ohio State scored one of the sweetest victories ever for Coach Woody Hayes. The Buckeyes avenged a 16-13 loss last season that may have cost them the national championship, whumping host Michigan State 21-0.

Fullback Pete Johnson bulled across twice for Ohio State in the Big Ten opener.

Cincinnati defensive back John Viltro was the hero in the Bearcats' opening 19-6 triumph over Richmond. Viltro returned a punt 75 yards for a touchdown, recovered a fumble and intercepted a pass.

Dayton suffered its second successive defeat to an Ohio Valley Conference opponent, this time 30-24 to Eastern Kentucky.

In college division action, it was:

Youngstown State 10, Central State 0; Ashland 34, Ferris State 10; Wittenberg 19, Baldwin-Wallace 0; Capital 16, Heidelberg 7; Kenyon 24, Bethany 12; Denison 14, Marietta 6; Mount Union 55, Geneva 7; Ohio Wesleyan 21, Ohio Northern 8; Westminster 6, Muskingum 0; Centre 28, Oberlin 0; Otterbein 26, Manchester 0; DePauw 28, Wooster 8; Bluffton 15, Taylor 8; Findlay 37, Earlham 0; Albion 10, Defiance 3; Thiel 35, Case Western Reserve 21, and Hiram 10, John Carroll 7.

Red Sox Defeat Brewers, 8-6

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Are the Boston Red Sox lacking confidence or just playing a confidence game?

The Red Sox have a four-game lead over the Baltimore Orioles in the American League East but don't sound like they think they're the team to beat.

"I expect Baltimore to win every game they play. If they get beat, it's a bonus for us," said Boston Manager Darrell Johnson, whose Red Sox rallied from a 5-1 deficit to beat the Milwaukee Brewers 8-6 Sunday.

Does that mean the Red Sox expect to lose their important two-game series against the Orioles beginning Tuesday night? Or are they merely luring Baltimore into a trap at Fenway Park?

And on the other side of the field are the pursuing Orioles, who sound like they're in the driver's seat as they ready for their collision in Boston.

"We just have to go in there and play like we've been playing," said Don Baylor, who knocked in three runs in the Orioles' 9-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers. "The pressure is not on us. If we had a four-game lead it would be wrapped up right now."

Elsewhere in the AL, the New York Yankees slapped the Cleveland Indians 6-2; the Minnesota Twins outslugged the Oakland A's 10-8; the Kansas City Royals pounded the California Angels 0-4, and the Texas Rangers nipped the Chicago White Sox 9-8 in 13 innings.

Veteran Carl Yastrzemski, the team captain, led by example for Boston with a two-run tie-breaking single in a three-run seventh inning.

Baylor, continuing to wallop Detroit pitching, laced a two-run homer in the fifth and an RBI single in the seventh and Elrod Hendricks hit a two-run homer for hte Orioles' 10th victory in their last 12 games.

Yankees 6, Indians 2

Working on two days' rest, the Yankees ace Jim Hunter pitched seven innings, surrendering five hits, striking out two and walking none.

"I didn't have real good stuff especially on my fastball," said Hunter, 22-13, whose complete game streak was stopped at 10. "I got tired a little quicker than normal."

Rangers 9, White Sox 8

Roy Howell's tie-breaking single capped a three-run comeback in the bottom of the 13th and gave Texas the victory over the White Sox.

Deron Johnson's two-run single put Chicago on top 8-6 in the top of the 13th, but in the bottom of the inning, Toby Harrah singled, Jeff Burroughs doubled for one run, then Tom Grieve singled to tie it. Grieve took second on the throw home and scored on Howell's single to center.

Royals 10, Angels 4

Harmon Killebrew and Frank White slugged home runs in Kansas City's victory. Killebrew's two-run blast, his 13th of the season and 572nd of his career, capped a four-run first inning. White hit an inside-the-park homer an inning later.

Twins 10, A's 8

Danny Thompson's three-run homer capped a six-run outburst that carried Minnesota past Oakland. The Twins outthit the A's 15-12.

When Lou Graham shot a 71 to beat John Mahaffey's 73 in the U.S. Open golf playoff the two pros reversed their 18-hole scores of the previous day.

Coach Chuck Mills of Wake Forest says his team may still be a year away from showing progress in the won-lost column. His team took one of 11 games in 1974.

Nicklaus Wins Open

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — A very satisfied Jack Nicklaus considered the question carefully. "This is the year of my best golf," said the man who, at age 35, has achieved a record unmatched in this ancient game's history.

"This would have to rank with '72 among my best years," he said. "I won more tournaments in '72 (a total of seven), but from a standpoint of consistency, from the way I've played week in and week out, this is better."

His record this season is all but overwhelming. His Sunday playoff victory over Billy Casper for the World Open title gave him five wins — including the Masters and PGA — for the season that isn't yet complete. No one else has won more than three.

The $40,000 first prize pushed his money winnings for the year to $291,000 — a figure that has been surpassed only twice — and all but clinched a record seventh money-winning title.

His winning score of 280, four under par on the 7,007 yards of piny woods and sand hills that make up the No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club, left Nicklaus with a leading stroke average of 69.9 for the year.

NEW YORK (AP) — A tired Jim Hunter was still good enough to beat the Cleveland Indians.

"I didn't have real good stuff especially on my fastball," said Hunter, who was pitching on two days' rest but still led the New York Yankees over the Indians 6-2. "I got tired a little quicker than normal."

Glynis Coles Winner Of Wightman Cup

CLEVELAND (AP)—The British were calling it a Golden Jubilee after their third-ranked woman tennis player, Glynis Coles, swept past America's Mona Schallau 6-3, 7-6, Sunday and clinched Wightman Cup honors.

The triumph marked the first time in 50 years that the British had prevailed away from home in the competition that began in 1923.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FORT TUESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): If you expect to much, day may prove disappointing. Keeping objectives within reasonable bounds, however — and working toward them only — is your winning ticket.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Curb tendencies toward lethargy. Sidestepping obligations and trying to bluff your way through could have unfortunate results.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Opposition to your ideas could cause some indecisiveness but, if you're sure you're on the right track, go ahead as planned.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Straying off the beaten path not advisable. You'll find more opportunities, greater satisfaction in activities close to home.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): A creative idea could prove more remunerative than you suppose. Fine gains indicated if you play your cards right.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Indications are that a bit of luck is coming your way. Take a chance — especially in an activity that particularly interests you.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): This looks like one of your better days. You should be the center of attraction in whatever circle you find yourself — business or pleasure.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): It will pay you to look below the surface now. New trends may result in an agreement where there was only opposition before.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Jupiter influences not too friendly. Avoid getting in over your head — especially where you happen to be on unfamiliar ground.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A favorable day for negotiations, working toward contract settlements. Parties of the second part now appreciate what you have to offer.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Mixed influences. Stay out of speculative ventures and be exceptionally careful in dealings with the opposite sex.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): The Piscean tendency to seek the unusual and offbeat will be much in evidence now. You'll find much pleasure in areas others overlook.

YOU BORN TODAY are a scholar at heart, ceaseless in a quest for knowledge and a whiz at imparting your learning to others. You would make an educator par excellence or, along similar lines, an outstanding lecturer. You have a great love of nature and all things related to the earth; could shine as a botanist, agriculturist or geologist. Business will probably interest you less than a profession and, in the latter connection, the best outlets for your talents, aside from the aforementioned, include the law, the theater, literature and music. Traits to curb: moodiness and impatience with others. Birthdate of: Lauren Bacall, James Coburn and Peter Falk, stage, screen and TV stars.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mercy, the new season is innovative. In CBS' new "Three for the Road," one lad had a fear of heights. In ABC's "Swiss Family Robinson," a young boy had a fear of water.

Each fear was the cause of crisis in the shows the networks scheduled as the newcomers began their Sunday night run in hope of wrestling ratings away from NBC's durable "World of Disney."

The better-produced and photographed show was the CBS entry, which stars Alex Rocco as a widowed photographer who travels about in a large camper with his two sons, one teen-aged, the other preteen.

The plot concerned hang-gliding, which Rocco was covering for a national magazine, and the effort of his older boy (Vincent Van Patten) to overcome his fear of heights and try the sport.

Somewhere in all this was a subplot about No. 1 son getting sweet on a hang-gliding college student (Kathleen Cody) who, after trying to catch his attention, almost left him just hanging there.

There was a lot of ominous music, a must for critical moments, but the plot was thin, likewise the dialog.

Still, Rocco, who vaguely resembles NBC's Tom Snyder, was an appealing sort of father, and his two TV sons — the younger is played by Leif Garrett — are reasonably competent actors.

The show may turn good in time if it gets better scripts and keeps up the good scenery. Last night's scheduled outing costarred the beautiful beach country near Monterey, Calif.

"Swiss Family Robinson" is based on the classic shipwrecked-family novel by Johann Wyss, although ABC calls the show "Irwin Allen's Swiss Family Robinson" because Irwin has adopted them.

Irwin is the man who gave us "The Poseidon Adventure," a big-screen disaster film. With "Swiss Family," he has a small-screen film disaster.

Martin Milner, fresh from "Adam-12," is stranded as head of the Robinson clan, which includes one parrot, one wife, three kids, and an old, bearded salt, played by Cameron Mitchell.

You know Mitchell is an old salt because when a typhoon starts whispering through the palm trees, he rasps to the kids, "Mates, we better batten down the hatches. There's a big blow comin'."

Prior to the big blow, we learn that Fred, the oldest child, has been afraid of water ever since he nearly drowned during the shipwreck he can't forget.

He keeps having daymares about almost drowning but overcomes his fear to save his kid brother from doom on the family raft.

I know it's a family show and not much is required of it, but "Swiss Family" is so child-like in writing, acting and production it gives infantile a bad name.

Family Planning Assists Low-Income Families

The Pickaway County Family Planning Association is an agency oriented toward birth control methods and continuation care to help prevent unwanted pregnancies. The local clinic has expanded its sessions to every Monday from 2 - 8 p.m. in the basement of Berger Hospital.

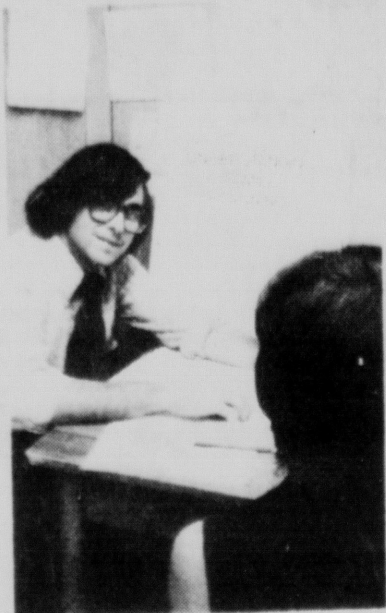

The services have been increased to include: annual physical examination; breast check for cancer; venereal disease screening; blood test for anemia; and prescription and dissemination of contraceptives. Referral services available are: vasectomy counseling; infertility diagnosis; psychological problems; and marriage and family life counseling.

The clinic hopes to reach all women of low income in Pickaway County who cannot obtain family planning services from a private physician. Patients are charged a fee based on their ability to pay. Any person interested in Family Planning services should call Enterprise 2235 for an appointment.

Speakers are also available to present programs on family life education to schools or interested groups desiring this information by calling 474-2479.

The present staff includes two physicians; a nurse practitioner; two paid nurses from Planned Parenthood of Central Ohio; one local co-ordinator; many volunteer nurses; and about 25 volunteer lay women.

Public family planning programs are Ohio's largest provider of continuing preventive health care to fertile-aged, low income women.

PLANNING—Dr. Karl Schaeffer, physician of Planned Parenthood of Central Ohio, is shown discussing choices of contraceptives with a patient.

The first six months of 1975, the number of patients seen have increased 50 per cent over 1974. The financial support of the Community Fund plus state and federal funds have made this possible. Family Planning's allocation from Community Fund for 1975 is $1800. Average annual cost of family planning service per patient is $50 versus an ADC payment of $2,016 for one mother and one child.

More importantly—the taxpayer's money cannot buy love and happiness for the unwanted child.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Suppose you receive in the morning mail a brand new dictionary that you haven't ordered. Enclosed with the dictionary is a bill for $25. If you leave the dictionary on a shelf, unused, you cannot be held legally liable for the price.

But suppose you do start using it. Or give it away to a friend. Or toss it into the ashcan. Then, according to an old common law doctrine, you have "exercised dominion" over the book and must pay for it.

Under this doctrine countless consumers, over the years, have paid for things they did not really want. But now most states as well as Congress have passed special statutes changing the common law. These statutes usually allow the recipient of unordered merchandise to simply treat it as a gift.

This does not mean, however, that the recipient can take unfair advantage of his new privilege. Say a delivery boy leaves a carton of groceries on your doorstep by mistake. And you know perfectly well that the groceries were meant for the people next door.

You might argue that this was "unordered merchandise," hence yours to keep for nothing. But chances are that the statute would not be held applicable in the event of an honest mistake.

In one case a man received the annual renewal of an insurance policy from his broker. For two months he kept it, making no response. Then he informed the broker that he was not taking the insurance.

But in these circumstances, a court ruled later, the man could be held liable for at least the two months' insurance. The years of previous dealings, said the court, had justified the broker in assuming that "the retention of the policy implied acceptance."

Orientation For Red Cross Volunteers Set

An orientation for Red Cross Volunteers will be held at the Chapter House, 167 Watt St. on Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m.

This training is required for all volunteers. Both adults and teenage boys and girls who will work at Berger Hospital, local Nursing Homes and the VA Hospital are invited to participate. There are many openings at present in the schedule for teen-agers and boys are especially needed.

Mrs. Walter Garner and Mrs. Marion DeLong will conduct the orientation.

Orientation dates for volunteers at VA Hospital will be September 22 and 29 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. at the hospital in Chillicothe. Those who are interested may secure more information by calling Red Cross, 474-5736.

Workshop Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Department of Natural Resources will conduct a sailing workshop Oct. 3-5 at Lake Hope State Park in Vinton County.

Natural Resources Director Robert Teater said the workshop is designed to introduce the concepts of sailing at a beginner's level to teachers, recreation and youth leaders and the public.

Old Car Buffs Given Break

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's old car buffs got a break under a state law that took effect today.

Among other things, they no longer have to be concerned about their vehicles passing safety inspections.

The new law also exempts vehicles that meet specified qualifications from existing or future requirements with regard to exhaust emissions, noise, or fuel usage.

Sen. Stanley J. Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, sponsored the new statute as a result of the growing popularity of antique cars and concerns by some collectors that their hobbies could run afoul of the law.

He said strict enforcement of existing statutes could lead to a ban on the use of or even the destruction of antique motor vehicles. "A large segment of Ohio citizens enjoy the fun and nostalgia of it," the senator said.

Aronoff brought in an impressive collection of antique cars from throughout the state and rode in a parade around capitol square last spring to call attention to his measure. It passed both houses overwhelmingly before being signed into law by Gov.

Two Autos Demolished, No Injuries

Both cars were demolished but neither driver was injured in a two-car mishap which occurred 11:55 p.m. Friday on Route 23 just north of Circleville. State Highway Patrol Sgt. R. P. Ehrhart cited 26-year-old Roger L. Dowden, Route 2, for failure to yield the right of way.

According to the report made by Sgt. Ehrhart, John L. Walker, 20, 153 Water St., was traveling northbound on Route 23 when Dowden pulled into his path. Dowden pulled onto the highway from a median strip crossover and struck the Walker vehicle in the right rear side.

Both autos were damaged so extensively that they had to be towed from the scene.

Although Ohio doesn't have mandatory statewide safety inspections of motor vehicles, some are conducted by municipalities and in random programs around the state. The bill states that vehicles qualifying as historical vehicles (at least 25 years old) are exempt from such inspections, and may not be classed as junk vehicles with certain exceptions.

The bill creates a new classification of "collector's vehicles" and says they may be licensed if they are of special interest and owned, operated, or used "exclusively as a collector's item or in leisure pursuit, investment, or sources of parts for motor vehicles, but not used as the owner's principal means of transportation."

Otherwise, the bill leaves unchanged the special $10 license fee for historical vehicles 25 years old or older, but provides for an additional $5 fee for collector's vehicles. The historical plates take the place of regular tags issued for all other vehicles, but the collector's plates do not.

Left intact by Aronoff's bill is the penalty for leaving a junk vehicle—unless licensed as a collector's item—in open view for more than 10 days after receipt of notice. The maximum penalty for that offense is $100 the first time around, and up to a $250 fine and 30 days in jail for a second violation.

VISIT FESTIVALS—Leigh Hritz, representing the Ashville Fourth of July court, and Laurie May, Miss Pumpkin Show, were busy last weekend at other festivals. Here, they are pictured with the King Bee at the Lebanon Honey Festival, and they later journeyed to the Reynoldsburg Tomato Festival.

Lebanon Fighting Continues To Rage; 20 More Said Slain

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Palestinian mediation averted a potentially explosive antigovernment strike planned by leftist Moslems today, but Christian-Moslem fighting spread to Beirut.

At least 20 more persons were reported killed in machine-gun battles Saturday night and Sunday in the northern city of Tripoli, the hills around it and several Beirut suburbs. This increased the casualty toll since Sept. 3 to nearly 150 killed and twice that many wounded.

Moslem leftists had called a nationwide general strike to protest the use of the army as a buffer force between warring Christians and Moslems in northern Lebanon. Premier Rashid Karami, a Moslem, asked Palestinian guerrilla chief Yasir Arafat to intercede with the leftists, and he arranged a meeting between Karami and Socialist bloc leader Kamal Jumblatt.

Jumblatt agreed to call off the strike "to avoid having the fighting move to Beirut," Karami said he had established a new dialogue with the left which would pave the way to "national reconciliation." Palestinian guerrillas of the Syrian-backed Saiga group passed the word that any shopkeeper who did not open faced guerrilla reprisals, and most Beirut shops were open today.

However, fighting broke out Sunday in four suburbs of Beirut, and witnesses said Palestinian guerrillas were among the Moslem forces battling Christian militiamen of the conservative Phalangist party. Seven persons were reported killed.

Army troops near Tripoli opened fire for the first time since they established buffer zones last week between the warring Christians and Moslems.

The troops clashed with militiamen of the leftist, predominantly Moslem Oct. 24 Movement who police said blew up buildings and cabanas at a Christian beach owned by a member of President Suleiman Franjeh's family and then threatened to kill Christian workers at a nearby cement factory.

A communique said the clash occurred as the militiamen were on their way back to Tripoli. Twelve of the leftists were killed and one was wounded, but there were no army casualties, the communique said.

Fighting began Sept. 3 between Christians from Zagharta and Moslems from Tripoli. It escalated on Sept. 7 into mortar battles, machine-gun raids by both sides and murders of kidnaped persons.

State Patrol Completes Two Auto Larceny Cases

Two cases of auto larceny were completed this weekend by officers at the local State Highway Patrol Post. Sgt. Ronald Thompson stated this morning that it was only through the incessant efforts of the men that these two cases were finally solved. He noted that auto larceny is one of the most lucrative of criminal activities in this country.

The first case began when Mitchell D. Kent, St. Albans, W. Va. was stopped just north of Circleville on Sept. 4 by Ptl. E. J. Urban. The officer cited Kent with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol. The officer brought Kent to the Highway Patrol Post and questioned him concerning the vehicle. Several attempts were made to locate the owner of the car since Kent could not show proper ownership.

Ptl. Urban ran file checks on the auto several times and a positive report finally came back Friday. The car was stolen from St. Albans, W. Va.

Kent is presently serving time in the Pickaway County Jail for the OMVI offense but will be held in custody for the West Virginia authorities should they extradite him.

Another car was finally reported stolen after Ptl. Dean A. Harrison ran successive checks on it. He had stopped a vehicle driven by Robert A. Ball, 27, on Interstate 270 and Route 62 in Franklin County and found the man to be wanted for auto larceny in the state of Virginia. A warrant had been issued there for Ball's arrest.

At the time of his arrest, Ball was driving a car which displayed Massachusetts registration. Ptl. Harrison ran a file check on the car but was unable to locate the owner. The car was impounded because of the warrant for Ball's arrest.

Saturday, Ptl. Dean's check came back positive that the car had been stolen from a shopping mall in Springfield, Mass. on Aug. 22. The officer then contacted the Springfield police. Ball was released to the authorities from Virginia.

Both Ptl. Harrison and Ptl. Urban will receive lightning bolts for their cruises in connection with the Patrol's Blue Max program. The program was initiated to help combat auto larceny in Ohio.

In other action during the weekend, Sgt. Thompson reported a case of malicious destruction at the roadside stop just north of South Bloomfield. He said this morning that the vandalism occurred sometime between 5 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. Saturday.

According to his report, the mirror over the basin in the men's restroom was broken and a hole was punched in the side of the wall. Debris was also scattered over the area. The incident is still under investigation.

Egypt Ambassador Held; PLO Wants End To Pact

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Palestinian guerrillas occupied the Egyptian Embassy and the Arab League office in Madrid today and demanded that Egypt denounce its new Sinai agreement with Israel, local news agencies reported.

The guerrillas were reported holding Egyptian Ambassador Abdel Gafar, his press attache and a consul hostage in the embassy, and the Egyptian representative of the Arab League office, Abdel Rahman al Tuhami, in his office.

A report from the Spanish news agency Cifra said one guerrilla seized control of the embassy, but other sources said five or six men took over the building.

They were reported to have given the Egyptian government until midnight to comply with their demand. They also were reported threatening to blow up the embassy if the police tried to enter it.

There was no immediate report of how many guerrillas were in the Arab League office.

There was speculation that the guerrillas were students at the University of Madrid, where more than 500 Arabs are reported studying.

The Palestine Liberation Organization, as well as more radical Palestinian groups, have bitterly opposed the recent agreement which U.S. Secretary of State Henry A.

Kissinger negotiated between President Anwar Sadat of Egypt and Israel because Sadat did not force Israel to recognize the Palestinians' right to a state of their own on the west bank of the Jordan River.

On Sunday night the Egyptian People's Assembly called on Sadat to break relation with the PLO and also end the 15-year-old friendship treaty between the Soviet Union and Egypt because of Soviet criticism of the Israeli-Egyptian pact.

Grain Sale Suspension Fought

WASHINGTON (AP)—A major farm organization, saying President Ford disregarded the farmer's interest in suspending grain sales to the Soviet Union, is trying to get the President to end the suspension.

William J. Kuhfuss, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, was scheduled to meet with Ford today. Federation leaders last week angrily accused Ford of "capitulation to political blackmail" when he announced that no further sales would be made before mid-October.

Kuhfuss, reached by telephone Sunday at his farm near Mackinaw, Ill., said, "farmers are real disturbed" over Ford's actions on the grain issue. They are angry over Ford's exclusion of them in his dealings with AFL-CIO President George Meany and other labor leaders as well as over the administration's talks with the Russians, he said.

"Capitulation to labor is what it amounted to," Kuhfuss said of Ford's suspension of the grain sales. "As we view it, these are political activities going here with the election coming on next year."

Meany and maritime union officials had vowed to boycott loading of grain ships bound for Russia unless the administration could assure that the sales would not hurt American consumers.

Harrison Man Dies

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Wendell Swearinger, 22, of Harrison died Saturday of injuries suffered in a Sept. 1 traffic accident, the Hamilton County Sheriff's Patrol reported.

The gunman, who was not immediately identified, was shot as he emerged from a Continental Airlines 727 passenger jet with a hostage in front of him and pointed a handgun at one of 25 police officers around the plane, police Sgt. Michael Van Dyke said.

The gunman had forced two Continental maintenance mechanics to start the engines of the unoccupied plane earlier, but police had shot out the tires as the jetliner moved down the runway, Van Dyke said at a news conference.

As the plane began moving, the doctor, who had been taken hostage at a hospital shortly before midnight, appeared at the door. A shot rang out, and the doctor tumbled down steps attached to the plane. He was critically wounded but crawled to safety, Van Dyke said.

The doctor was identified as Frank L. Wiefels, a radiologist.

He was taken hostage at a hospital after the gunman kidnaped the driver of a car which he commandeered at a small grocery store, Van Dyke said.

The gunman had fled to the store, which he tried to hold up, from the scene of a rape in which a woman was stabbed in the chest, Van Dyke said.

He went to the San Jose Hospital and

Health Center from the store, took Wiefels hostage, and headed for the Reid-Hillview Airport with the two hostages in an auto, Van Dyke said.

At the Reid-Hillview Airport, the gunman took a security guard hostage, switched to a Santa Clara County vehicle and took it and his three hostages to the main terminal of the San Jose Municipal Airport, 20 miles away, Van Dyke said.

He escorted the hostages into the main lobby, where he took the two Continental mechanics as hostages, Van Dyke said.

The gunman and the other hostages were not identified.

The rape victim was identified as Irene Rosas, 28, of San Jose. She was hospitalized with a stab wound in the chest.

Wiefels underwent surgery at the San Jose Hospital and Health Center. The series of events began about 11:30 p.m. and ended with the gunman's death about 1:30 a.m.

After police shot out the Continental jetliner's tires, the plane came to a halt on the runway, its engines still running.

Police Lt. William Mallet began negotiating with the gunman over a radio from the control tower to the plane's cabin.

Solons May Let Prices Spurt

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is growing sentiment among congressional Democrats to end oil-price controls just long enough to give Americans a taste of higher fuel prices.

Then, the Democrats' theory goes, consumers would set up a clamor, controls would be restored despite President Ford's objections, and Ford would have suffered a stinging defeat.

It is doubtful the battle between Ford and Congress over energy policy will end that way, but chances for such a turn will be improved this week unless House and Senate Democrats resolve their differences over terms of a brief extension of controls.

Both houses of Congress will devote virtually all their efforts this week to energy legislation. Because of the Yom Kippur holiday, the House planned no action today or Tuesday. The Senate scheduled a meeting for today but scheduled no votes.

The House has cleared its calendar for the last three days of the week to resume work on a broad energy-conservation bill that also includes new oil-pricing provisions objected to by the White House.

Leaders of both houses will be involved in behind-the-scenes negotiations trying to work out an extension of 60 days or so in the oil-price controls that expired Aug. 31.

Ford wants to end price controls in the hope that higher prices for gasoline and other fuels will force conservation, give the oil industry more money to find more energy and reduce U.S. reliance on foreign oil.

His Democratic opponents fear the effects higher fuel prices would have on unemployment and recession. They say the Ford plan would raise gasoline prices by 10 to 12 cents a gallon, compared with the White House estimate of 3 cents.

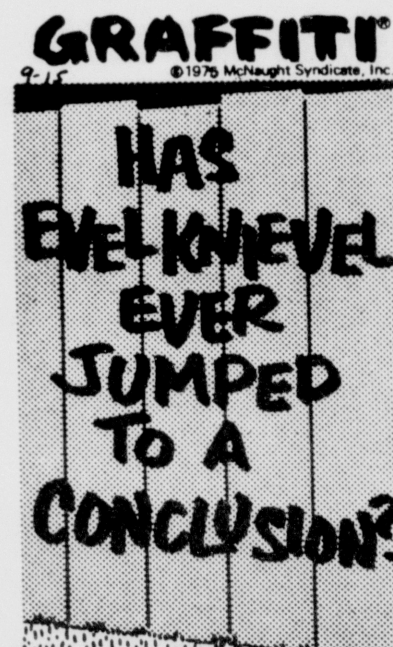

The President vetoed the Democratic plan to extend controls for six months to allow Congress time to develop its own energy plan. The House then passed a 60-day extension of the controls law.

But a snag developed when Senate Democrats insisted on limiting Ford's authority to send Congress a "take-it-or-leave-it" plan for phasing out price controls during the extension period. Such a plan would become law unless rejected by the House or Senate within five days.

Senate Republicans objected strenuously to that restriction, and Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., chairman of the House energy and power subcommittee, said the Senate move was inviting a veto.

"Let him (Ford) veto it," one top Senate aide told a reporter. "He originally wanted an immediate end to price controls and by his veto of the six-month extension he got just what he had asked for. Let's see if he really wants to run next year with $1-a-gallon gasoline."

KEEP OFF THE BEACH—Park Rangers have been keeping hikers out of the beach area at Deercreek State Park, claiming it and the parking lot are closed until the summer. However, the only prohibitive signs in the vicinity concern swimming. And swimming, much to the disconcert of some youngsters, is equal to wading in the eyes of the Rangers.

Set Subpoenas In Jimmy Hoffa Probe

DETROIT (AP) — A federal grand jury may subpoena three more reputed mob figures, including the alleged Mafia boss of Detroit, in connection with the disappearance of ex-Teamsters president James R. Hoffa, according to sources close to the investigation.

The three are Joseph Zerilli, Raffaele "Jimmy Q" Quasariano and Peter Vitale.

Vitale and Quasariano are acquaintances of Teamsters President Frank Fitzsimmons, according to Michigan law enforcement officials.

However, Fitzsimmons has not been subpoenaed and it is not known whether Vitale and Quasariano have been subpoenaed.

Quasariano said last month in a telephone interview that reports linking him to Hoffa's July 30 disappearance are "ridiculous."

Quasariano, identified in U.S. Senate testimony as an "administrator" in the Mafia, said he knew Hoffa, but not well, adding: "He's a nice guy."

In 1963 Senate testimony, Zerilli was identified as the No. 1 Mafia figure in Detroit, although he has denied the accusation saying: "I've been in the bakery business for 36 years."

State and federal investigators have said repeatedly that if the mob had anything to do with Hoffa's disappearance, Zerilli would know about it.

There are conflicting reports as to whether the U.S. attorney's office working on the Hoffa case has issued a subpoena for Zerilli, who has eluded every grand jury in the past 30 years that has tried to find him.

Prince Charles Visits New Guinea

PORT MORESBY, Papua, New Guinea (AP) — Britain's Prince Charles, arriving here for ceremonies marking New Guinea's independence from Australia, was greeted by bare-breasted New Guinea girls in grass skirts who clapped and giggled.

Also on hand at the airport Sunday were Papua New Guineans wearing feather headdresses, with stone axes in their belts.

The blowing of conch horns Tuesday will signal the end of 92 years of Australian rule and turn the island's government over to Michael Somare, known locally as "the chief."

New Hampshire Campaign Bitter

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Bitter personal hostility between Democrat John A. Durkin and Republican Louis C. Wyman is marking the last days of New Hampshire's Senate campaign as the year-long rivals battle for advantage in a Tuesday runoff both hope will be decisive.

The antagonism between Durkin and Wyman flared Sunday, both on and off the air, as they participated in a pair of television interview programs to climax the campaign made necessary when the Senate was unable to decide who won their first race last November.

First Class Mail Delivery To Improve, Officials Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Postal Service says that starting next month it will give at least as good service for a 10-cent stamp as it now does for a 13-cent airmail stamp.

Under the program that takes effect Oct. 11, first-class mail will receive service "equal to or better than airmail," the Postal Service said Sunday.

"For the mailing public, the practical effect of the first-class improvement program is that domestic first-class postage will purchase the level of service that previously only airmail could buy," a Postal Service announcement said.

A Postal Service spokesman said much of the first-class mail destined for distant addresses now is transported by air. After Oct. 11, the Postal Service will guarantee that it will go by air, he said.

This means that there no longer will be an advantage in paying the extra three cents for an airmail stamp.

The Postal Service has discussed upgrading first-class mail since February but postponed the change until after new postal rates were decided upon.

The Postal Service on Sunday obtained the legal authority to begin the Durkin accused Wyman of engaging in Watergate-style tactics, while the GOP candidate claimed his opponent had lied repeatedly, as they clashed over a Republican letter to New Hampshire hunters that accused the Democrat of favoring gun control.

"I think it represents a new low in New Hampshire politics, and I'm ashamed of you," Durkin declared after he raised the issue and denied the charge on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

"I'm ashamed of you, Mr. Durkin, for lying time and time again," process of increasing postal rates. The Postal Service is expected to do so this week, resulting in an increase in the first-class rate from 10 to 13 cents after Christmas.

"Due to the extensive use of air transportation, adjustments in collection services and the use of letter sorting machines, the Postal Service has the capability of providing service to first-class mail which, on a national basis, will regularly equal or exceed airmail service performance," the announcement said.

The Postal Service says that under the new program it will be able to program more than 90 per cent of all first-class mail for either next-day or second-day delivery. At present, that schedule applies only to airmail.

The service improvement program applies to domestic first-class mail weighing 13 ounces or less. A separate air parcel service, known as priority mail, and international airmail will remain unchanged.

After Sept. 22, airmail stamps, stamped cards and envelopes can be exchanged at full postage value for ordinary stamps, stamped cards and envelopes.

Career Army Officers Face Forced End To Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, the Army is forcing out of the service some regular officers who in joining indicated they were making the Army a career.

The 625 regular officers are among 2,138 officers who will be dropped from the service by the end of September as part of a cutback to bring the number of Army officers to an authorized strength of 98,125 by June 30, 1976.

Rembrandt Painting Vandalized

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands (AP) — The director of the Rijks museum says the damage that an apparently deranged man did to Rembrandt's "The Night Watch" can be repaired, but the restoration will take four months or longer.

"The canvas is badly damaged," said Dr. P. J. Van Thiel after a burly, 38-year-old man repeatedly slashed the priceless 17th century canvas, one of the most famous paintings in the world.

Officials said Wilhelmus de Rijk, a former teacher from a village 30 miles west of Amsterdam, entered the museum shortly after it opened Sunday afternoon, went directly to the spacious chamber where the "The Night Watch" hangs and began slashing at the lower center section of the huge painting with a serrated bread knife.

A guard grabbed his arm, but Rijk fought him off and moved across the painting to the right, slashing a center section about seven feet wide more than a dozen times. Knife marks were more than two feet long, and a piece of canvas about 12 inches by 2 1/2 inches was ripped off.

Two bystanders and guards who rushed in from other rooms helped to overpower the man. According to a guard, Rijk said he had been sent by the Lord to attack the painting.

"I was ordered to do it," he was quoted as saying. "I had to do it."

Police said he had a history of mental illness and had taken the knife from an Amsterdam restaurant where he had lunch.

He was held on a charge of wilful destruction.

It was the second knife attack in this century on the painting. A jobless shoemaker protesting his inability to find work slashed the painting before World War I.

After the attack museum visitors poured through the chamber for more than an hour before the painting was screened and a notice posted: "We regret that Rembrandt's Night Watch is not on display due to wilful damage."

Two other artistic masterpieces — Michelangelo's "Pieta" and Pablo Picasso's "Guernica" — have been attacked in recent years while on public display.

The officers affected by this reduction in force were commissioned between 1967 and 1970, during the Vietnam buildup. The Army now says it has more officers than it needs because of that buildup.

The Army said that the typical officer selected to be released was 30.8 years old, with the youngest 25 and the oldest 44. It said that 50 per cent of the officers were 29, 30 or 31 years old.

The Army says it plans no further involuntary releases. It says that if more cutbacks are needed it hopes that normal attrition will meet its requirements to get down to the 98,125 level.

All those selected for release were given a chance to appeal to the Army Active Duty Board, but the board says that as of early September it had received only 12 appeals.

Encephalitis Declines In Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — No new cases of encephalitis were reported in Indiana this weekend, and state health officials say a recent cold spell may bring an end to the outbreak of the disease.

Nighttime temperatures have dropped into the low 30s and upper 40s during the past few days, and health experts says the chilly readings make conditions unfavorable for mosquito breeding. The insects transmit the disease to humans.

There is no cure for encephalitis. And the St. Louis strain of the disease is sometimes fatal, especially to older persons, according to medical experts.

"Although it's not real popular with the general citizenry, the cold weather is a good break in our fight to halt the spread of encephalitis," state epidemiologist Dr. Richard Telle said.

countered Wyman, claiming that Durkin had changed his gun control position.

An hour later, in another Boston studio, they went through a similar confrontation in an interview taped for showing today on NBC's "Today" show.

Both the 58-year-old Wyman, a conservative Republican who has spent 30 years in elected and appointed posts, and the 39-year-old Durkin, a liberal Democrat who was state insurance commissioner before launching his first bid for elective office last year, said they hope the margin Tuesday will be decisive.

Neither, however, would rule out a challenge if the outcome once more is close.

The Senate now consists of 61 Democrats and 39 Republicans, including Republican Norris Cotton, whose retirement led to the Wyman-Durkin race and who has been serving until a winner is chosen.

State Atty. Gen. Warren B. Rudman authorized election officials to turn over all ballots and tally sheets to the state police Tuesday night for safekeeping to avoid post-election problems.

Politicians here agree the Durkin-Wyman race is close and will be decided by which organization succeeds better in turning out its supporters. The third candidate, American Party nominee Carmen Chimento, a 45-year-old unemployed writer, is given no chance but is expected to poll more than the 1 per cent he received in November.

Some independent observers give Durkin an organizational edge but add quickly this might have been offset by the impact of President Ford's visit last Thursday, which drew large, friendly crowds in areas in which Durkin did well in the first election.

Tuesday's result may show if the Democratic tide of 1974 is still running and will test the potency of charges by Durkin, likely to be echoed by other Democrats next year, that President Ford has sided with "big oil" and other "special interests."

A Page Of Opinion

Cost Control A Mixed Bag

The Governor's Council for Cost Control has come up with a mixed bag in trying to save money in Ohio's motor vehicle world.

Among the recommendation are three of doubtful validity. First of these was a call for a slowdown in clearing roads after snowfalls, second was a doing away with deputy registrars for purchase of license plates, driver's licenses, etc., and third was to eliminate the requirement for some accident reports if all parties show evidence of insurance coverage.

This writer can vividly recall leaving another state's borders after traveling on slick and dangerous roads and crossing onto bare pavement upon returning to Ohio. This usually brought with it a surge of pride in living in Ohio. This would be taken away, and should not be.

Secondly, if a centralized license plate bureau was established, costs could rise instead of fall, and the inconvenience would be much greater than now. Possible abuse could also rise, as happened in another state a few years ago.

The third proposal, on elimination of accident reports, sounds good on paper but would not work in real life. Granted, it would cut down on the load of overworked police departments. However, the usual first question asked when an insurance claim is filed, is "Was an accident report taken?"

Without the accident report, the companies might be more reluctant to honor claims, with resultant money loss to drivers.

However, one recommendation should be adopted. It calls for use of only one license plate, with stickers for the next several years. Two plates are unnecessary and costly.

Better Not To Love

By JIM BISHOP

It is easy to put the rap on New York. Everybody does it. The metropolis is broke. The Big Apple is rotten to the core. There is less garbage because the poor are eating it. The knocks come from everywhere.

I have no love for New York. It took 25 years of my learning period. Somewhere between the spires I left a ragged garment called youth. The sleeve is missing. The lining is torn. Let it remain there.

Within me is a cynical gratitude. I was wise to her ways. She was my old prostitute girl friend. She never cared about anything except the next buck. And yet she was tender with a growing boy. She kept telling me that out there I would find a million O. Henry stories.

I believed her. She was a jaded old bag, but she didn't lie. "Look," she said. I roamed the streets and alleys of the Village, Harlem, Tottenville, Coney Island, the Bronx, the East Side, Cherry Hill.

I looked. Sometimes I found a good love story, or a tricky murder, a sob story, an opening night, a suicide, a chorus girl who thought that beauty was forever, a family and furniture on the sidewalk, a crooked banker caught, a block dance, dark laughter and bright gin in Harlem, night court.

At dawn you could stand in front of the Automat at Times Square. In the silence, you could hear the city hum to herself. Big busting bands of yellow and pink came up over the Palace Theater to touch the night clouds. A sign said: "Starring Belle Baker."

She was old, even then. There were cracks in her cheeks and her eyes were bright with fever. In the garment center men pushed hand trucks freezing to death. The subways roared and rocked the millions. The elevated trains squealed. Trolleys sighed when they stopped.

Everybody was in a hurry. In blinding snow and hot iron heat men rushed to their doom. The unemployed ran faster. We ate fast. We rushed to work; we rushed home. Cardiacs were fashionable. A man had to be well off to have one.

We muscled each other to see John McGraw's Giants. At the Stadium we saw Miller Huggins' sweet patooties — Koenig, Lazzari, Gehrig and Ruth. And how about Uncle Wilbert Robinson's Dodgers, the taxi driver yelling up from the street — "So they got three on. How many on second?"

She had a dandy mayor. Jimmy Walker. A crook? So what? She could afford him. And Boss Curry to oversee the stealing and make sure it got to the right pockets.

Larry Fay. Big Frenchie Demange. A bouncer named Toots Shor. John Barrymore telling a mounted policeman, "You're sore because you took the exam for sergeant and your horse passed." Peaches Browning, who holds the record for sleeping with her mother. Or is it schlepping?

The old bag had action. At the glittering Paramount, a skinny kid named Sinatra soloing with a band. Club Eighteen. Leon & Eddie's. N.T.G. The Follies. The Vanities. The Scandals. Nicky Blair. Major Bowes living on top of the Capitol Theater.

Gladys Glad. Texas Guinan. The kid who danced for dimes — George Raft. Owney Madden. Lepke. Edward R. Murrow. Allan Courtney. Norman Brokenshire. Grover Whalen. John Hylan. Martin Block.

The old buzzard had her lovers, her idolators, her crushes. It was never wise to love New York. She was better as a weekend woman. Then she would be painted to the night skies in rouge and blue eye shadow. She would don the same tight gown she wore for Jim Fisk and Diamond Jim Brady. And she would smile that wise, one-sided grin and murmur, "Take me, handsome."

On the misty mornings I would leave her. I would turn my back on her and walk and walk. She would whisper, "This is love." But I was very young and cruel. "Love," I would say, "is something I must find some day."

And when I drew far enough away, I would turn to look. New York was always lying on her back in the daytime. From a distance, she had a figure like a busted saw . . .

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Is inflation coming under control? Evidence that nobody knows is contained in the history of forecasts, which over the past decade have been lamentably inaccurate on this subject.

And the suggestion that one guess is as good as another is suggested by the amazingly wide range of opinions even among professionals who, like fortune tellers, earn good money for their alleged farsightedness.

Alan Greenspan, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, maintains the inflation rate will simmer down by next spring, and that the annual rate of inflation for 1976 would be about 7 per cent.

Even that rate, however, would hardly indicate that prices were under control, and Greenspan himself concedes it would be "by no means acceptable." No, not when we used to think that 3 per cent was too much.

The irrepressible Pierre Rinfret, whose opinions sometimes have been solicited by the White House and by political candidates, as well as by his regular big business clients, is a bit more cynical.

"Hope for the best, prepare for the worst. That's the strategy for 1976," Rinfret writes in his current "confidential" advisory.

"How do you protect yourself against inflation?" he asks rhetorically. "By raising your prices by more than the inflation rate," he answers, explaining that for a decade "the major mistake has been to believe inflation would disappear."

In the view of the National Association of Purchasing Management, the business recovery is under way but "an unwelcome return of price increases gives cause for concern."

But not all surveys of purchasing agents indicate a fear that inflation might undermine the recovery. The highly regarded magazine Purchasing World makes this unqualified declaration:

"Everybody is worried about prices — except buyers."

John O'Connor, editor, conducted two surveys and reached the conclusion that "the people who actually pay the bills for their companies' supplies of goods and materials don't buy the economic doomsday prediction."

O'Connor observes that many sellers are maintaining high list, or book, prices, but are quoting actual prices much lower. He suggests that the government indexes, which are based on list prices, are thereby distorted.

Well, who do you believe? Searching for an answer one is eventually directed to the consumer, the final buyer, the final arbiter of prices, the ultimate decision maker. If the consumer is pessimistic he probably is so for good reason.

When the consumer believes his income will be sufficient and prices stable and the job market healthy, he is said to have confidence. Remove one of those factors, such as his belief in stable prices, and his confidence wanes.

The Sindlinger & Co. household survey was consulted in an effort to determine whether consumers were confident — that is, whether they thought prices and other economic factors were in their favor.

As of the final week of August they were divided 50-50, precisely, "a rare point when the ceaseless push-pull battle within the consuming public was at a total standoff."

Federal Funds For Aging OKd

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Commission on Aging has approved a plan for the use of $118,400 in federal funds for services for the elderly in Allen, Auglaize, Hancock, Hardin, Mercer, Putnam and Van Wert counties.

Martin A. Janis, executive director of the commission, said the funds will go to the PSA Number Three Agency on Aging Inc., Lima, which has been designated to coordinate and fund senior citizen services in the seven-county area.

The plan calls for an information-referral service, development of a legal program and other direct services for the elderly, Janis said. He said efforts are being made to establish county councils on aging to work with the area agency to implement specific projects.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Are people with high blood pressure allowed to exercise?

Mr. C.V., Fla.

Dear Mr. V.:

Sensible exercise is now prescribed for people who have had a heart attack. So certainly people with high blood pressure can, with proper conditioning, embark on a course of moderate exercise.

An interesting sidelight of the beneficial aspects of exercise is the fact that patients with high blood pressure were shown to have a distinct lowering of the blood pressure when exercise was carefully planned and gradually increased.

Another interesting finding showed that there was a reduction of the triglycerides, or fatty substances, in the blood after well-regulated exercise.

The psychological and physical benefits of exercise are great for people with conditions like hypertension. It removes the feeling that they are chronic invalids and helps to create a sense of well-being.

Of course, it must be restated that anyone with high blood pressure, or one who has suffered a heart attack, should embark on an exercise program with approval of the doctor. Specialists in exercise programming can now test the cardiac reserve of a person and plan a safe program for healthful exercise.

Is it possible to predict how tall a young child will be as an adult?
Mrs. B. J., Va.

Dear Mrs. J.:

With normal health and good nutrition, the family pattern of height is often a good guide to the probable height that a child will attain.

It is said that a boy at 27 months and a girl of 20 months will have reached half of their adult height.

It is also said that a boy of 9 and a girl of 7 have reached about three-fourths of their adult height.

There are, of course, variations of this rule that occur particularly with hormone imbalance and inadequate nutrition.

When children do not seem to have attained a height close to those in the same age group, it is a good idea to have the problem investigated. In many instances, hormone studies reveal the reason for a slow or impaired growth.

Then, with specific hormones, the rate of growth can often be stimulated.

Alphabet For Deaf Seen Inadequate

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — With the help of a computer, a team at Bowling Green State University is studying the adequacy of the sign language of the deaf.

The computer is helping Dr. Harry Hoemann, an associate professor of psychology, in his study of language used by those who can't hear.

"We wanted to see, initially, if the structural features of sign language are a finite set, like the alphabet," he said.

Research has indicated that deaf people don't construct sentences when they talk with their hands, he said.

Hike Tuition At Miami U

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Undergraduates at Miami University will pay $220 instructional fees per quarter beginning in January, trustees said Saturday.

The $10 fee increase will not affect the fall quarter which begins Sept. 24, the board said.

Dr. Phillip R. Shriver, Miami president, blamed the increase on inflation, legislative cutbacks, a decrease in allocations and civil service pay increases.

Beginning in January, the instructional fee on all Miami campuses will be $220 a quarter for undergraduates and $270 for graduate students. All other fees remain the same, the board said.

In other action on Saturday, the board raised the base student pay rate to $2.20 an hour from $2, effective Jan. 1.

Shriver told the board Oxford campus enrollment will be about 14,500 compared with 14,293 last year.

Surveys Slated On Wildlife Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University and the state Department of Natural Resources are sponsoring surveys to determine the state's woodcock population and the public usage of wildlife areas.

The survey of wildlife areas will be conducted at 43 state areas over a one-year period, officials said. The study is to determine the recreational uses of the areas with an eye toward future programs.

Wildlife division chief Dale Haney said the woodcock survey is to determine the sex and age of migratory or resident woodcock populations in Ohio and the number of hunters in the state. It will be made through the woodcock hunting season, which ends Nov. 13.

The first school for the deaf in mid-18th century Paris, Hoemann said, modified the street language used by the deaf.

And Hoemann believes Trappist monks who took a vow of silence may have done some talking—with their hands. He thinks some of their signs may be included among those in common usage by the deaf today.

With the help of his wife, Shirley, a commercial artist and designer, and Vicky Florian, a research assistant, Hoemann set up a computer to give sign language.

The first step was to create a design of face and hands on the viewing screen. They were stored in the computer's memory bank. With instructions from the keyboard, the hand moves over the face to give the proper sign for the object asked.

Hoemann says the study will enable him to determine if sign language now being used is adequate. He also hopes to learn its structure.

"Once the structure is known, it can have an impact on speech therapy, he said. "Once we know how the language works, it will shed light."

"It will also tell us something about how the human mind works," he said. "Man is the only animal able to adapt by instinct. Maybe this adaptability applies to hand language."

Hoemann worked with deaf persons in special education classes and in church work before becoming a psychologist. He has written a training manual for use in communication with the deaf.

The computer study has shown that each of three sign language components is distinctive. Hoemann said a potential 616 signs can be produced.

He plans to study how much distortion of a component of a sign is acceptable before it becomes unrecognizable. In this way, he said, he can study how much deviation is allowed before the meaning of a sign is lost.

Visiting Fellow Set At Kenyon

GAMBIER, Ohio (AP) — Lord Caradon, former Great Britain ambassador to the United Nations, will be Kenyon College's first Woodrow Wilson Visiting Fellow, Sept. 21-28.

The college said he was the first in a series of visitors to the Kenyon campus in a program designed to bridge the gap between academic and non-academic worlds.

Lord Caradon will function in various capacities as a visiting professor during the week. His first lecture will be held Sept. 22 on "What Hope In The Middle East."

They'll Do It Every Time

Death Threatened For U.S. Prisoners

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Eritrean rebels threatened today to kill four Americans taken prisoner in northern Ethiopia unless the United States stops supplying arms to the Ethiopian government.

Two of the Americans were kidnapped Saturday along with six Ethiopians when raiders attacked the U.S. Kagnev communications facility near Asmara, the capital of Eritrea province. The Pentagon said the Americans were Navy Electronic Tech. 3.C. Thomas C. Bowidowicz of Jersey City, N.J., and Army Spec. 5 David Strickland of Orlando, Fla.

Two other Americans, Steve Campbell of San Leandro, Calif., and Jim Harrell of Milwaukee, Wis., were kidnapped from Kagnev in July. Both were civilian technicians and were reported seen by a Syrian photographer last month in the hands of the rebels.

A spokesman for the Eritrean Liberation Front in Beirut said the ELF transmitted four demands to Washington through "a U.S. embassy in the Middle East."

In addition to the arms ban the demands included:

—Dismantling the Kagnev base and an Ethiopian naval base under construction at Massawa, Ethiopia's chief port on the Eritrean coast.

—Compensation for areas of Eritrea that suffered heavy damage in attacks by the U.S.-equipped Ethiopian air force during fighting between the rebels and the Ethiopian government last February.

—U.S. government pressure on Ethiopia's military government to free all Eritrean rebels it holds.

"We demand a public U.S. government statement on these demands. Otherwise we shall not be responsible for what will happen to the four American captives," the ELF spokesman said.

He said the four captives were being treated well and fed well. He said they were being held "somewhere in northern Eritrea" but would not be more specific.

Harrell's mother, Mrs. William Harrell, said Sunday the State Department has advised her that negotiations for his release have broken down.

"They can't get anybody to negotiate with them," she said an official told her.

A State Department spokesman in Washington would not comment today on the status of the negotiations.

Catholics Celebrate Seton Sainthood

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Thousands of Roman Catholics from the United States today continued a week-long celebration of the canonization of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, a convert to Catholicism nearly 200 years ago who has become the first native-born American saint.

U. S. Ambassador John Volpe and Henry Cabot Lodge, President Ford's envoy to the Vatican, were giving a reception for many of the nearly 20,000 Americans who came to Rome for the canonization ceremony in St. Peter's Square Sunday.

In the evening, John Cardinal Wright, the highest ranking American at the Vatican, was leading a tribute to Mother Seton at the Catacombs of San Callisto.

"Elizabeth Ann Seton was wholly American," Pope Paul VI told the throng of pilgrims packing St. Peter's Square Sunday. "Rejoice, we say to the great nation of the United States. Rejoice for your glorious daughter. Be proud of her and know how to preserve her faithful heritage."

The 77-year-old pontiff led the service standing at an altar atop the steps of St. Peter's Basilica. He spoke in carefully enunciated English.

The music was supplied by the Vatican's Sistine Choir and the Community Chorus of Emmitsburg, Md., where in 1809, Mother Seton founded the Sisters of Charity, the first religious order of women in the United States.

The crowd included a thousand of the 8,000 Sisters of Charity and more than 15,000 other Americans who came to Rome on a seven-day, $500 package trip.

The 30-minute canonization service, inserted near the beginning of a two-hour Mass, stressed women's contributions to society and emphasized what Pope Paul called the complete femininity of Mother Seton — wife, mother of five children, widow and nun.

The Pope recalled that the United Nations declared 1975 International Women's Year.

"We rejoice at the bond that is established between this program and today's canonization," he said.

"... May the dynamism and authenticity of her life be an example in our day — and for generations to come — of what women can and must accomplish in the fulfillment of their role for the good of humanity."

Born in New York City in 1774, Elizabeth Ann Bayley was the daughter of an upper-class Protestant couple who at the age of 19 married William Seton, a member of a wealthy shipping family. She and her husband were visiting Italy when he died of tuberculosis in 1803, and soon after she became a Catholic to the dismay of her family and friends.

Mrs. Seton moved to Baltimore and then to Emmitsburg, took vows, founded the Sisters of Charity and established a school from which the parochial school system evolved. She died in 1821, and in 1882, James Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore launched her candidacy for sainthood.

Mother Seton was beatified, the last step before sainthood, in 1963 by Pope John XXIII.

Thieves Get 5 CB Radios

Citizen band radios "are good merchandise to re-sell," Circleville Police Sgt. Larry Pontious said Monday, analyzing the theft of five CB units from cars parked on city streets last weekend and the attempted theft of another.

The thefts "aren't just confined to the Circleville area," he said. Federal crime statistics show that CB radios are stolen at a greater rate than any other merchandise across the nation. The five most recent thefts all occurred within the same time period (late Saturday night to early Sunday morning) and all featured the same means of entry.

In all cases, the radios were the only items stolen from the cars, although other valuable merchandise were in clear view of the thieves, police said.

The most valuable unit taken was a General Electric Progress two-way 30 watt mobile unit estimated at $700.

It was taken from a car owned by Ned Harden, 146 Park Place.

Thieves apparently entered the locked car through the driver's door after working the door mechanism with a coat-hanger or other wire-like object.

A Realistic 23-channel CB unit, valued at $160, was taken from a car owned by Donald Eldridge, 885 Atwater Ave.

The thieves apparently broke in through the wing window on the driver's side to unbolt the unit from its bracket.

Max Wagner, 939 S. Washington St., told police that thieves entered his locked car, parked behind his apartment house, to take a J.C. Penny Pinto unit valued at $155.95.

Investigating officers discovered small pry marks on the passenger door.

A Teaberry CB unit, valued at $165, was taken from a car owned by Lloyd Curry, 136 York St.

Entry was gained through the driver's door. Police noted that the thieves were professional in removing the unit, unscrewing it from its mount under the dash of the car and disconnecting the wiring.

Wires were not cut on a Lafayette 23-channel unit stolen from a car owned by Dale Martin, 151 Hayward Ave.

Police found pry marks on the driver's door near the wing window.

Thieves apparently made an unsuccessful attempt to take a radio unit from a car owned by John Strawser, 401 E. Ohio St. A unit was taken from his vehicle about two months ago, police said.

Strawser apparently frightened the thieves from the area 3:20 a.m. Sunday.

"A good way to put an end to the thievery here," Sgt. Pontious said, "is to keep a copy of the serial number of the radio unit." This apparently aids in the return of units when theft rings are apprehended.

Balloons Mark Women's Communion

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — No one explained the significance of the balloons hanging on strings inside the church as six women defied Episcopal church law by celebrating communion here Sunday.

It was as if the future of the women and the male rector who invited them to the Emmanuel Church Episcopal were as precarious as the balloons.

Episcopal church bishops consider the women's ordination invalid and have refused to sanction their participation in communion.

Many of them travel to different churches to celebrate communion, but few church leaders will permit them to take part in services, the Rev. Suzanne Hiatt said here Sunday.

"They say good luck to you. Try to keep warm and well fed," she added.

The rector, the Rev. Dalton D. Downs may face a church trial for defying the orders of Bishop John B. Burt, who forbade him to invite the women.

The Rev. Mr. Downs said that his action Sunday has also jeopardized an $11,000 yearly grant from the diocese to the local church. He said the money is used to administer to the needy in the inner city community around the church.

The priest said the Diocese Council will consider whether to continue the grant at its meeting this week.

"Why do women persist on getting nice young men like the Rev. Mr. Downs and the Rev. Mr. Beebe in trouble and keeping the church in an uproar?" the Rev. Miss Miatt asked during her sermon.

The Rev. L. Peter Beebe of Oberlin is the other Ohio priest who has invited women to participate in services. The Rev. Mr. Beebe was later found guilty by a church court of violating church law.

The Rev. Miss Hiatt answered herself, saying, "because we do have something to risk and to take risks for our faith is a very important thing."

She said the women's actions involve a measure of arrogance, "because we presume to be right . . . but we also see great good coming out of all this trouble."

Car Flips After Crash

Two people were hurt in separate auto accidents investigated by Circleville Police Saturday.

Keith Poling, 17, 344 E. Franklin St., was treated by Circleville Emergency Squadmen for a laceration to his right elbow which was suffered in a one-car accident 8:09 p.m. Saturday on Nicholas Drive.

Police said Poling was headed toward the Lancaster Pike intersection when the right front wheel of his car hit a curb, which is being built along the length of the street.

Impact jolted the car to its left side, and it flipped to its top before coming to rest about 500 feet from the intersection.

Sandy Carter, 15, Route 5, a passenger in the car was not hurt.

Alonzo Goodwin, 10, 350 John St., was treated at Berger Hospital for an abrasion to his left elbow and later released following a 3:30 p.m. Saturday accident.

Police said Goodwin apparently drove his bicycle off the sidewalk at E. Union St. and struck a car driven by Carl Hall, 59, 356 E. Ohio St.

Hall told officers he was waiting at the intersection of Abernathy Ave. and E. Union St. to make a right turn.

Clouds moved over the state last evening, halting another temperature plunge toward record lows.

The clouds came too late to spare Toledo, where readings fell to 39, breaking the old record for the date of 40, set in 1966. That made the third straight night Toledo set a new low temperature record.

Elsewhere in the state, temperatures generally ranged from the mid 40s to the low 50s at daybreak.

The weather map continues to be dominated by high pressure. The ridge of high pressure was along the Atlantic Coast at daybreak, drifting out to sea. South to southeast winds behind the high are gradually bringing warmer and more moist air up from the Gulf of Mexico.

Numbers
Tips Given
On Radio
WASHINGTON (AP) — When is Luke, chapter 3, verse 15 not a scriptural reference? When it is broadcast as a tip for winning bets in an illegal "numbers" game, says the Federal Communications Commission.
The FCC said tips disguised as scriptural references were sprinkled in some religious radio programs broadcast in the nation's capital.
And for this and other reasons, the agency revoked the license for United Broadcasting Co., Inc., to run radio station WOOK and gave it to a new group which includes newspaper columnist Jack Anderson.
"The record clearly establishes that WOOK's facilities were used by various ministers to broadcast programs offering three-digit scripture citations in return for monetary donations," said the FCC decision made Tuesday and released Friday.
"The broadcasting ministers claimed that the scripture citations had been successful in enabling their listeners to receive financial blessings — win at the numbers game."
For example, a reference to Luke, chapter 3, verse 15 would be a tip to bet the number 315 in that day's illegal numbers game.
The 7 to 0 decision also said the station had permitted false advertising, including ads for roots and incense that would give the purchasers luck in the numbers game, and that it failed to comply with technical regulations.

French Cattle To Aid U.S. Output?

LULING, Tex. (AP) — Beef producers could buy less grain and housewives would get less fat if American ranchers started driving Limousins, an outgoing Texas cattle breeder says.
Limousins are French cattle expanding in United States livestock markets because of their efficiency at putting on lean weight.
"They don't weigh as much as some other cattle, but they'll cut out more beef and they'll do it on less grain, which keeps the price of bread and everything else down for the housewife," Ben Woodson of Del Rio, Tex., said.

Woodson and his partner, Hays Mitchell of Marfa, bought 43 purebred Limousins, including five bulls, from a Canadian breeder recently in the largest such transaction to date in the United States.
They were hosts recently to a gathering of newsmen and beef producers at their rolling Deux Amis Limousin Ranch near here.
Only 200 purebred Limousins are registered in the United States, although some 140,000 Limousin crosses have been recorded since the first animal was introduced in 1968.
Woodson said tests showed that butchers dress out two to three per cent more from Limousins than other more common steers, such as Herefords and Angus.

Of that dressed out Limousin, there will be six per cent to seven per cent more red meat, he added.
"The housewife will be buying a lot more bites of meat instead of scraps of fat and bones for the dog," Woodson said as the visitors scrutinized five golden-red bulls penned nearby.
The Texas breeder said numerous tests showed the French steers eat about two pounds less grain for every pound of live weight they produce when compared to other steers in the United States.
Woodson and North American Limousin Foundation vice president Bob Van Trease added that Limousins are rugged, fertile animals which have few problems calving or giving enough milk.
Van Trease said Limousins require less grain because it takes a seventh as much feed to produce lean meat as it does to produce fat.
"These cattle eat less grain because they're putting on lean instead of fat," he said.
He added that efficiency in production has become critical to ranchers since market problems began developing two years ago.
Van Trease said United States ranchers might have turned to Limousins years ago except for tradition and difficulty in importing French animals.
Law prohibits importation of animals from countries where there is known hoof and mouth disease, he said.
To import the animals, U.S. breeders went to neutral nations such as Canada and bought offspring of animals imported from France into the neutral nation.

Raucy Romeo Crushes Relationship

DEAR ABBY: I should be so lucky as the woman who for 30 years has been sleeping back to back with her husband like a pair of fireplace logs.
We've been married for 32 years, and my 220-pound Romeo holds me in his arms every night until my ribs ache. One night with him and I feel like I've been run over by a semi.
He smokes cigars and loves salami, pickles and garlic, so you know what his breath is like. I've smelled better cesspools.
His toenails are 2 in. long and sharp as razor blades, and he wraps his legs around mine like he's climbing a rope.
He sleeps in his shorts, and his chest is covered with bristly hair. It's like sleeping with a raccoon all summer.
On top of this, he thinks he's the world's greatest lover, which he isn't.
Please help me. I'm about to cave in.

Shouldn't he pay for insuring these gifts? He surely must know that I don't have that kind of money, but so far he hasn't mentioned it.

GIFTED
DEAR GIFTED: So YOU mention it.
DEAR ABBY: Regarding AFFECTIONATE FATHER: There are a couple of guys—25 and 32—I see a few times during the year. They always greet me with a bear hug and a kiss on the cheek, which I return. A 42-year-old 6'3" guy also gives a big hug.
They're my two grown sons and son-in-law, and when that happens my day is made.

News Wire Costs May Rise Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has ruled illegal a rate arrangement by which news wire services have been able to cut the expense of their leased telephone lines. And it refused to approve another cost-cutting plan.
The commission's decisions, announced Friday, are expected to increase considerably the cost to the wire services for use of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. facilities.
However, the FCC said it would soon institute a separate investigation of the need for preferential press rates for private line services.

Wheat Sale Aids U.S. Metrification

WASHINGTON (AP) — However confusing it might appear to casual observers, the current situation involving U.S. crop production and the controversial sales of wheat and corn to Russia is providing a practical exercise in the use of the metric system of measurements.

For most Americans, the unit of measurement used in farm commodities is the bushel. The bushel is a measure of volume, not weight, and is equal to four pecks or 32 quarts. Thus, the weight of a bushel of grain varies according to the commodity measured.

A bushel of wheat weighs 60 pounds, for trade purposes, but a bushel of shelled corn is 56 pounds. Barley weighs 48 pounds per bushel and oats, the lightest of the major grains, weighs 32 pounds.

But international trade uses the metric ton as the standard measure. And it is solely a unit of weight, regardless of the commodity, equal to 2,204.6 pounds or 1,000 kilograms of 2.2046 pounds each.

Increasingly, U.S. trade and government officials use metric tons when they speak of exports, sales to the Russians and even the size of crops being produced by American farmers.

But each metric ton of wheat contains a different number of bushels than a similar ton of corn, barley or oats. For example, there are about 36.7 bushels of wheat in a metric ton (incidentally, called a "tonne" in Europe); 39.4 bushels of corn; 45.9 bushels of barley; and 68.9 bushels of oats.

As it has for several years, the Agriculture Department last week included metric equivalents in its monthly report on U.S. crop production. For example, the September estimate of 5.69 billion bushels of corn to be produced this year was equal to 144.46 million metric tons. The wheat crop of 2.14 billion bushels was 58.1 million tons.

The Soviet Union bought a total of 9.8 million tons of wheat, corn and barley from U.S. firms in July and want to buy more. But the total tonnage cannot be converted accurately into total bushels without computing each of the three commodities because of their different weights per bushel.

Auto Insurance Hiked For State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state faces a Valentine's Day deadline to work out options to bring down the cost of insurance for state-owned vehicles.

Officials say the cost of insuring state-owned vehicles, already about $499,000 annually, could double next year.

Walter McCleary, deputy director of office services for the Ohio Department of Administrative Services, said because of that prediction, his department will do everything possible to reduce its accident rate before negotiations for new coverage begin in about 45 days.

According to Henry Anderson, chief of insurance and risk management for the department, present insurance coverage with the Reliance Insurance Co. of Philadelphia expires Feb. 14.

"Our accident rate is high and the losses at present are running over 100 per cent of the premium," Anderson said.

The state does not actually insure its own vehicles for repairs after an accident, but does pay for liability coverage for bodily injury and for property damage to others.

"It's basically third-party liability," Anderson explained.

Also, Anderson pointed out that the 15,000 vehicles the insurance covers include trucks, trailers, tractors, mowers, and farm machinery, as well as passenger cars and station wagons.

Only about two-thirds of the vehicles are licensed for highway use.

Phillip S. Hamilton, deputy director of personnel for the department, said programs will be initiated soon to provide better accident reporting within state government and added driver training, particularly for drivers involved in accidents.

He said the accident reporting will include some form of point system to record when state employees are responsible for accidents so that drivers with serious accident records can be denied state vehicle driving privileges.

Anderson said if such programs could substantially reduce accident frequency and severity, the state might bargain a lower rate than now anticipated.

But, he said, rates industrywide are increasing about 25 per cent, regardless of accident experience ratings.

Anderson said the state has three options to help cut premiums: reduce the number of state-owned vehicles; become self-insured and stand good for claims without a private carrier; or establish a deductible amount on liability coverage similar to most motorists' insurance.

Cincinnati Bengals Blank Saints, 20-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — Boobie Clark is back. Stan Fritts is arriving. And Ken Anderson can't wait to get going.

"This is what we needed to get some momentum rolling," said Anderson, whose first-half leadership triggered the Cincinnati Bengals' 20-0 exhibition victory over the New Orleans Saints Saturday night.

"Everything's falling into place," said Anderson, who completed 13 of 19 passes in the first half for 137 yards and one touchdown.

A crowd of 48,000 watched the Bengals register their first exhibition shutout in the club's eight-year history.

And while Coach Paul Brown downplayed the victory, he was understandably excited with the crunching running of Clark and Fritts.

In fact, Brown hinted Fritts, who led all rushers with 90 yards in 12 carries, may have won a starting job with Clark in next Sunday's home opener against the rival Cleveland Browns.

Fritts, a 6-foot-1, 210-pound fourth round draft pick out of North Carolina State, had a stunning night, the best by a Bengal back during the pre-season. Labeled "too small and too slow" most of his career, he averaged 7.5 yards per carry, getting the bulk of his yardage on a 44-yard draw play that set up one of Cincinnati two first-half touchdowns.

Clark, the Bengals' rhino-sized fullback who missed most of 1974 with a broken arm, looked as devastating as he was in 1973 when he rumbled for 988 yards as a rookie.

But Brown didn't take any chances with Clark, yanking him out of the lineup at halftime for fear of injury. "I just had a funny feeling about him," said Brown. Clark had 44 yards in 11 carries.

The victory, Cincinnati's fourth in the last five games, gave the Bengals a 4-3 exhibition record. The Saints, who got within the Bengals' 40-yard line twice during the night, finished at 2-4.

Brown suggested the Saints were "playing under wraps," possibly holding back for their opener against the rugged Washington Redskins next Sunday.

Patriots On Strike Alone

By CRAIG AMMERMAN
AP Sports Writer

Sympathy abounds among National Football League players for the New England Patriots' lonely strike stance. Whether it can be turned into real support in the next 48 hours will likely determine the outcome of the players' latest rebellion.

The Patriots, in a show of solidarity, voted to strike and forced the cancellation of their Sunday exhibition against the New York Jets in the belief that others would follow their demand that NFL owners and the players' union reach agreement on a new labor contract.

The followers did not materialize over the weekend and now the Patriots face a lockout by management if they attempt to resume practice Tuesday for this weekend's NFL opener against Houston.

Team after team announced Sunday they supported the Patriots. The St. Louis Cardinals even voted 30-16 to strike, but decided that vote was not strong enough and went ahead with their exhibition game against Denver, which the Broncos won 21-17.

"We do not enjoy this task which we have taken upon ourselves," said Randy Vataha, player representative for the Patriots, who voted 39-2 to strike. Vataha, holding a news conference in a restaurant parking lot in Foxboro, Mass., Sunday, called on the other 25 NFL clubs to join the Patriots on the strike line.

But with one week remaining before the NFL season opens — when the players begin drawing regular checks — there were no immediate takers. Player representatives for four teams — Buffalo, Denver, Cincinnati and Dallas — said their teams would not vote to strike, and others said they had no immediate intentions of taking strike votes.

Detroit Lions Defeat Cleveland Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Greg Landry pondered for a moment and said, "One of the biggest things we learned going into the regular season was how to win."

The Detroit quarterback and his Lion teammates came from behind Saturday night for a 27-24 victory over the Cleveland Browns in the final preseason game for both National Football League clubs. Both teams are 2-4.

At the halfway point in harness racing for 1975, Carmine Abbatiello had won 178 races to lead the drivers. His horses won $1,114,445 for the first six months.

Reds Split Twinbill With Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants and the Cincinnati Reds are both thinking of the future, but there is a difference — the Reds' is only two weeks away.

Manager Sparky Anderson needs

five victories to break the Cincinnati record of 102 set in 1970, but he's also resting his players for the National League baseball playoffs beginning in two weeks.

The Giants, meanwhile, are thinking

toward 1976 and beyond. Manager Wes Westrum proved that Sunday by giving rookie right-handers Rob Dressler and Greg Minton their first major league starts in a double-header split with the Reds.

Dressler, 21, worked six and one-third innings of the opener, allowing two runs and not figuring in the decision as the Giants rallied to a 4-2 victory. Minton, 24, pitched six shutout innings in the second game after yielding a three-run homer in the first during the Reds' 8-3 romp.

"They both have great arms and are great prospects," said Westrum. "Dressler is more of a sinkerball pitcher with a good slider. He has good control and keeps the ball down. Minton is more of the over-powering type."

Anderson was similarly impressed. "Every time I look up, the Giants are throwing a new pitcher at us," he said. "The two kids look pretty good. I've said all along the Giants should be very tough in the future because of their good, young pitching."

The split gave Cincinnati a final 13-5 advantage over the Giants this season. The Reds are idle today, but San Francisco hosts Atlanta in the opener of a three-game series tonight.

Home runs by Dave Rader and Steve Ontiveros on successive pitches by Gary Nolan, 139, in the seventh inning cracked a 2-2 tie and gave the Giants the victory in the opener. Dave Heaverlo, 3-1, was the winner in relief, retiring the last seven Reds.

Darrel Chaney's three-run homer in the first got the Reds going against Minton, 0-1, in the second game. Pat Darcy, 10-5, was the winner as Cincinnati broke it open with five runs in the eighth, including Dan Driessen's two-run double.

The Reds, who have 98 wins, begin a two-game series at San Diego Tuesday night. Anderson is encouraged that Johnny Bench's bruised ankle isn't as serious as originally feared. The ankle was injured in a game here Friday night, and Anderson says the slugger should be ready for action by Thursday.

Mike Vail is a streak hitter ... and the streaks never seem to stop.

New York's rookie sensation, leading the International League in batting, was plucked from the Mets' Tidewater farm club about a month ago, interrupting his 19-game hitting streak.

The move was designed to help the Mets in their charge toward the top of the National League East, a charge that never materialized.

But while the Mets have slowed down, Vail has picked up even more speed. He's hit in 23 of his 25 games in the majors, including the last 22 in a row to match the longest streak in the big league's this year by Boston's Denny Doyle.

No. 22, off St. Louis' John Denny in the Mets' 6-2 loss to the Cardinals, also moved Vail within one game of the NL record for rookie streak-hitting, set by Philadelphia's Joe Rapp in 1921 and equalled by the Phils' Richie Ashburn in 1948. The major league mark for rookies is 26 by Guy Courtright of the 1943 Chicago White Sox. Vail is also one game away from matching the Mets' alltime hitting streak of 23 by Cleon Jones in 1970.

In Sunday's other NL games, Pittsburgh remained 5½ games ahead of Philadelphia. The Pirates beat Montreal 4-3, the Phils routed Chicago 13-7, San Francisco split with Cincinnati, winning 4-2 and losing 8-3, Houston topped San Diego 4-2 and Los Angeles downed Atlanta 4-3.

"I was pretty happy about that," Vail said of his fourthinning single. "I think my hitting's been seeing the ball better in major league parks. There are better lights up here." The figures back him up. He was hitting .342 at Tidewater. He's batting .347 with the Mets.

Pirates 4, Expos 3

Miguel Dilone raced from first to home with the aid of an error to help Pittsburgh beat Montreal. Woodie Fryman walked Manny Sanguillen and Bob Robertson in the eighth inning and Dilone replaced Robertson.

Duffy Dyer's single to right scored Sanguillen and when Tony Scott, a defensive replacement, bobbled the ball, Dilone steamed home, too.

Phillies 13, Cubs 7

Mike Schmidt, the major league home-run leader, belted his 35th and 36th of the year to pace the Phils. Schmidt drove in four runs and Dick Allen had three RBI on a homer and a single.

Astros 4, Padres 2

Enos Cabell's two RBI and the combined nine-hit pitching of J.R. Richard and Joe Niekro carried Houston past the Padres. John Grubb had a two-run double for San Diego.

Dodgers 3, Braves 2

Ron Cey's 24th homer, a two-run shot in the sixth inning lifted Los Angeles past the Braves and gave Doug Rau his fifth straight victory.

Ohio State Blanks Michigan State, 21-0

By JOE MOOSHIL
AP Sports Writer

Woody Hayes of Ohio State and Bo Schembechler of Michigan seldom are in agreement except for their style of football play.

Although the Big Ten season is one-game old, they apparently had different views of the campaign after both turned back would-be contenders in style.

Ohio State blanked Michigan State 21-0 and Michigan turned back Wisconsin 23-6. Michigan State and Wisconsin were supposed to be teams who would break up the Ohio State-Michigan monopoly on Big Ten titles.

Hayes quoted poet William Wordsworth, "The old order changeth ... give way to the new order."

Hayes then added, "Well, the old order hasn't changeth yet."

But Schembechler, asked if the triumphs by Michigan and Ohio State would make the Big Ten another two-team race, said flatly "Hell, no." "We have to play Michigan State yet and they are a good team no matter what happened to them," said Schembechler.

What happened to Michigan State was too much Ohio State defense to go along with two touchdown runs by Pete Johnson, another 100-yard rushing game by Archie Griffin and a 64-yard touchdown pass by Cornelius Greene.

The Buckeye defense limited Michigan State to 80 yards rushing and 93 passing and completely harassed star quarterback Charlie Baggett who threw three interceptions and had "an average day" by Coach Denny Stolz' admission.

The three interceptions? All by Craig Cassidy. He's the son of Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, a Heisman Trophy winner at Ohio State, whom

Hornets Top Sun, 30-22

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The former Trojans celebrated "USC Day" in fine fashion — only they were on the losing side.

It was billed as "USC Day" Sunday as former University of Southern California quarterback Pat Haden played his last home game for the World Football League's Southern California Sun. Besides Haden, the announced crowd of 11,123 paid tribute to other former Trojans now with the Sun — Anthony Davis, John McKay and Jimmy Sims.

Haden and Daryle Lamonica passed for 253 yards and Davis ran for 141 yards and two touchdowns.

But it was the Charlotte Hornets who came away with the victory, 30-22.

In other games Sunday, Memphis downed Shreveport 34-23 and Hawaii trimmed Jacksonville 33-15.

On Saturday, Birmingham beat San Antonio 33-24 and Portland clipped Philadelphia 25-10.

Coach Gale Daugherty stated that four years ago none of the Northern harriers ran the first meet in under 30 minutes.

Tiger Reserves Blank TV, 12-0

Circleville's reserve football team handed Teays Valley a 12-0 setback Saturday morning on the Tiger turf.

Dave Marshall cracked off tackle in the first quarter for three yards and a touchdown. A conversion run failed.

Mike Brudzinski broke over tackle in the third period and raced 12 yards to paydirt for the final score. A pass for the conversion was no good.

Circleville coaches expressed praise for the fine progress of the junior and sophomore members of the Tigers.

Ball State Blasts Toledo, 38-28

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Those new kids in the league are taking turns leading the early Mid-American Conference football race.

It's Ball State this week after the Cardinals made their debut with a rousing 38-28 success Saturday over Toledo, one of the old guard.

Another expansion school, Central Michigan, tumbled from the No. 1 spot to second place after settling for a 6-6 standoff with Ohio University.

That put Ball State at 1-0-0 and Central Michigan at 1-0-1. However, the expected contenders, defending champion Miami (Ohio), Bowling Green and Kent State, have yet to play their first 1975 conference games.

Miami tuned up for a big date at Michigan State this week, clobbering Marshall 50-0 for the Redskins' 24th game without defeat.

In other nonconference activity Saturday, Western Michigan dropped its second straight decision 27-21 to

Akron, Eastern Michigan squared its record at 1-1 in beating Indiana State 30-7, Kent State salvaged a 31-29 triumph over Northeast Louisiana, Bowling Green edged Brigham Young 23-21, and Northern Illinois fell to Long Beach 24-7.

Ohio's Gary Homer and Raid Savich of Central Michigan traded two field goals each, which made Bobcats' Coach Bill Hess unhappy. "We didn't come all the way here for a loss or tie. We expected to win," snapped the Ohio coach.

Said Roy Kramer, Central Michigan's coach, "We couldn't establish our inside running game and couldn't maintain consistency. It was a typical MAC game—good, old-fashioned, slug-out football."

Ball State blunted Toledo passing whiz Gene Swick. He could complete only 15 of 38 passes for a sub-standard 158 yards, bringing a huge grin to Cardinal Coach Dave McClain's face.

"It's the most satisfying victory for me as a head coach," said McClain of his team's first ever game in the MAC.

Quarterback Art Yaroch drilled two touchdown passes and ran for a third score, leading Ball State to a 2-0 start. Toledo fell to 1-1.

"We were outthit, outcoached and didn't have enough pride in our defense. We deserved to lose," said Jack Murphy, Toledo's coach.

Miami Coach Dick Crum was not at all pleased with the Redskins' opening rout, paved by new tailback Rob Carpenter's two touchdowns.

"If we were to play at Michigan State the way we did today, we would be out of the game early. The thing that saved us was the big play," said Crum.

Meanwhile, third-ranked Ohio State scored one of the sweetest victories ever for Coach Woody Hayes. The Buckeyes avenged a 16-13 loss last season that may have cost them the national championship, whumping host Michigan State 21-0.

Fullback Pete Johnson bulled across twice for Ohio State in the Big Ten opener.

Cincinnati defensive back John Viltro was the hero in the Bearcats' opening 19-6 triumph over Richmond. Viltro returned a punt 75 yards for a touchdown, recovered a fumble and intercepted a pass.

Dayton suffered its second successive defeat to an Ohio Valley Conference opponent, this time 30-24 to Eastern Kentucky.

In college division action, it was: Youngstown State 10, Central State 0; Ashland 34, Ferris State 10; Wittenberg 19, Baldwin-Wallace 0; Capital 16, Heidelberg 7; Kenyon 24, Bethany 12; Denison 14, Marietta 6; Mount Union 55, Geneva 7; Ohio Wesleyan 21, Ohio Northern 8; Westminster 6, Muskingum 0; Centre 28, Oberlin 0; Otterbein 26, Manchester 0; DePauw 28, Wooster 8; Bluffton 15, Taylor 8; Findlay 37, Earlham 0; Albion 10, Defiance 3; Thiel 35, Case Western Reserve 21, and Hiram 10, John Carroll 7.

Nicklaus Wins Open

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — A very satisfied Jack Nicklaus considered the question carefully. "This is the year of my best golf," said the man who, at age 35, has achieved a record unmatched in this ancient game's history.

"This would have to rank with '72 among my best years," he said. "I won more tournaments in '72 (a total of seven), but from a standpoint of consistency, from the way I've played week in and week out, this is better."

His record this season is all but overwhelming. His Sunday playoff victory over Billy Casper for the World Open title gave him five wins — including the Masters and PGA — for the season that isn't yet complete. No one else has won more than three.

The $40,000 first prize pushed his money winnings for the year to $291,000 — a figure that has been surpassed only twice — and all but clinched a record seventh money-winning title.

His winning score of 280, four under par on the 7,007 yards of piny woods and sand hills that make up the No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club, left Nicklaus with a leading stroke average of 69.9 for the year.

Glynis Coles Winner Of Wightman Cup

CLEVELAND (AP)—The British were calling it a Golden Jubilee after their third-ranked woman tennis player, Glynis Coles, swept past America's Mona Schallau 6-3, 7-6, Sunday and clinched Wightman Cup honors.

The triumph marked the first time in 50 years that the British had prevailed away from home in the competition that began in 1923.

Red Sox Defeat Brewers, 8-6

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Are the Boston Red Sox lacking confidence or just playing a confidence game?

The Red Sox have a four-game lead over the Baltimore Orioles in the American League East but don't sound like they think they're the team to beat.

"I expect Baltimore to win every game they play. If they get beat, it's a bonus for us," said Boston Manager Darrell Johnson, whose Red Sox rallied from a 5-1 deficit to beat the Milwaukee Brewers 8-6 Sunday.

Does that mean the Red Sox expect to lose their important two-game series against the Orioles beginning Tuesday night? Or are they merely luring Baltimore into a trap at Fenway Park?

And on the other side of the field are the pursuing Orioles, who sound like they're in the driver's seat as they ready for their collision in Boston.

"We just have to go in there and play like we've been playing," said Don Baylor, who knocked in three runs in the Orioles' 9-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers. "The pressure is not on us. If we had a four-game lead it would be wrapped up right now."

Elsewhere in the AL, the New York Yankees slapped the Cleveland Indians 6-2; the Minnesota Twins outslugged the Oakland A's 10-8; the Kansas City Royals pounded the California Angels 0-4, and the Texas Rangers nipped the Chicago White Sox 9-8 in 13 innings.

Veteran Carl Yastrzemski, the team captain, led by example for Boston with a two-run tie-breaking single in a three-run seventh inning.

Baylor, continuing to wallop Detroit pitching, laced a two-run homer in the fifth and an RBI single in the seventh and Elrod Hendricks hit a two-run homer for hte Orioles' 10th victory in their last 12 games.

Yankees 6, Indians 2

Working on two days' rest, the Yankees ace Jim Hunter pitched seven innings, surrendering five hits, striking out two and walking none.

"I didn't have real good stuff especially on my fastball," said Hunter, 22-13, whose complete game streak was stopped at 10. "I got tired a little quicker than normal."

Rangers 9, White Sox 8

Roy Howell's tie-breaking single capped a three-run comeback in the bottom of the 13th and gave Texas the victory over the White Sox.

Deron Johnson's two-run single put Chicago on top 8-6 in the top of the 13th, but in the bottom of the inning, Toby harrah singled, Jeff Burroughs doubled for one run, then Tom Grieve singled to tie it. Grieve took second on the throw home and scored on Howell's single to center.

Royals 10, Angels 4

Harmon Killebrew and Frank White slugged home runs in Kansas City's victory. Killebrew's two-run blast, his 13th of the season and 572nd of his career, capped a four-run first inning. White hit an inside-the-park homer an inning later.

Twins 10, A's 8

Danny Thompson's three-run homer capped a six-run outburst that carried Minnesota past Oakland. The Twins outthit the A's 15-12.

When Lou Graham shot a 71 to beat John Mahaffey's 73 in the U.S. Open golf playoff the two pros reversed their 18-hole scores of the previous day.

Coach Chuck Mills of Wake Forest says his team may still be a year away from showing progress in the won-lost column. His team took one of 11 games in 1974.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): If you expect to much, day may prove disappointing. Keeping objectives within reasonable bounds, however — and working toward them only — is your winning ticket.
TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Curb tendencies toward lethargy. Sidestepping obligations and trying to bluff your way through could have unfortunate results.
GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Opposition to your ideas could cause some indecisiveness but, if you're sure you're on the right track, go ahead as planned.
CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Straying off the beaten path not advisable. You'll find more opportunities, greater satisfaction in activities close to home.
LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): A creative idea could prove more remunerative than you suppose. Fine gains indicated if you play your cards right.
VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Indications are that a bit of luck is coming your way. Take a chance — especially in an activity that particularly interests you.
LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): This looks like one of your better days. You should be the center of attraction in whatever circle you find yourself — business or pleasure.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): It will pay you to look below the surface now. New trends may result in an agreement where there was only opposition before.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Jupiter influences not too friendly. Avoid getting in over your head — especially where you happen to be on unfamiliar ground.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A favorable day for negotiations, working toward contract settlements. Parties of the second part now appreciate what you have to offer.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Mixed influences. Stay out of speculative ventures and be exceptionally careful in dealings with the opposite sex.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): The Piscean tendency to seek the unusual and offbeat will be much in evidence now. You'll find much pleasure in areas others overlook.
YOU BORN TODAY are a scholar at heart, ceaseless in a quest for knowledge and a whiz at imparting your learning to others. You would make an educator par excellence or, along similar lines, an outstanding lecturer. You have a great love of nature and all things related to the earth; could shine as a botanist, agriculturist or geologist. Business will probably interest you less than a profession and, in the latter connection, the best outlets for your talents, aside from the aforementioned, include the law, the theater, literature and music. Traits to curb: moodiness and impatience with others. Birthdate of: Lauren Bacall, James Coburn and Peter Falk, stage, screen and TV stars.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Mercy, the new season is innovative. In CBS' new "Three for the Road," one lad had a fear of heights. In ABC's "Swiss Family Robinson," a young boy had a fear of water.

Each fear was the cause of crisis in the shows the networks scheduled as the newcomers began their Sunday night run in hope of wresting ratings away from NBC's durable "World of Disney."

The better-produced and photographed show was the CBS entry, which stars Alex Rocco as a widowed photographer who travels about in a large camper with his two sons, one teen-aged, the other preteen.

The plot concerned hang-gliding, which Rocco was covering for a national magazine, and the effort of his older boy (Vincent Van Patten) to overcome his fear of heights and try the sport.

Somewhere in all this was a subplot about No. 1 son getting sweet on a hang-gliding college student (Kathleen Cody) who, after trying to catch his attention, almost left him just hanging there.

There was a lot of ominous music, a must for critical moments, but the plot was thin, likewise the dialog.

Still, Rocco, who vaguely resembles NBC's Tom Snyder, was an appealing sort of father, and his two TV sons — the younger is played by Leif Garrett — are reasonably competent actors.

The show may turn good in time if it gets better scripts and keeps up the good scenery. Last night's scheduled outing costarred the beautiful beach country near Monterey, Calif.
